FORWARD - LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Draft Red Herring Prospectus contains certain “forward-looking statements”. These forward-looking statements generally can be identified by words or phrases such as “aim”, “anticipate”, “believe”, “expect”, “estimate”, “intend”, “objective”, “plan”, “propose”, “project”, “will”, “will continue”, “will pursue” or other words or phrases of similar import. Similarly, statements that describe our strategies, objectives, plans or goals are also forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties, expectations and assumptions about us that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the relevant forward-looking statement. These forward-looking statements, whether made by us or a third party, are based on our current plans, estimates and expectations and actual results may differ materially from those suggested by such forward-looking statements.

Actual results may differ materially from those suggested by forward-looking statements due to risks or uncertainties associated with expectations relating to and including, regulatory changes pertaining to the industries in India in which we operate and our ability to respond to them, our ability to successfully implement our strategy, our growth and expansion, technological changes, our exposure to market risks, general economic and political conditions in India which have an impact on its business activities or investments, the monetary and fiscal policies of India, inflation, deflation, unanticipated turbulence in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices or other rates or prices, the performance of the financial markets in India and globally, changes in domestic laws, regulations and taxes and changes in competition in the industries in which we operate.

Certain important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from our Company’s expectations include, but are not limited to, the following:

- We generate our major portion of sales from our operations from Maharashtra region and any adverse developments affecting our operations in these regions could have an adverse impact on our revenue and results of operations.
- We derive a significant part of our revenue from few customers and the loss of any of these customers or a significant reduction in purchases by any of them and if our customers opt for backward integration, it could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.
- We are primarily dependent upon few key suppliers within limited geographical location for procurement of raw materials and we do not have any long-term agreements with such suppliers. Any disruption in the supply of the raw materials or fluctuations in their prices could have a material adverse effect on our business operations and financial conditions.
- Our manufacturing operations are subject to various operating risks, including risks beyond our control such as fire, breakdown or failure of machinery and equipment, industrial accidents, power disruptions, labour issues, severe weather conditions and natural disasters.
- Our Promoters, Directors, related entities, subsidiary companies and other ventures promoted by our promoters are engaged in a similar line of business and we do not have a non-compete agreement or contract with any of these entities, and hence a potential conflict of interest may arise.

For further discussion of factors that could cause the actual results to differ from our estimates and expectations, please refer “Risk Factors”, “Our Business” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Position and Results of Operations” beginning on Page Nos. 22, 125 and 198 respectively, of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. By their nature, certain market risk disclosures are only estimates and could be materially different from what actually occurs in the future. As a result, actual gains or losses could materially differ from those that have been estimated.

We cannot assure investors that the expectations reflected in these forward-looking statements will prove to be correct. Given these uncertainties, investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on such forward-looking statements and not to regard such statements as a guarantee of future performance.

Neither our Company, our Directors, our Officers, Book Running Lead Manager and Underwriter nor any of their respective affiliates have any obligation to update or otherwise revise any statements reflecting circumstances arising after the date hereof or to reflect the occurrence of underlying events, even if the underlying assumptions do not come to fruition. ### INTERNAL RISK FACTORS

Risk relating to the Company’s Business

1. We generate our major portion of sales from our operations from Maharashtrian regions and any adverse developments affecting our operations in these regions could have an adverse impact on our revenue and results of operations.

Our manufacturing facilities are situated at Plant 1 – Plot No. C-241, MIDC Waluj, Aurangabad, Maharashtra – 431133; Plant 2 – Plot No. L-18/15, MIDC Waluj, Aurangabad, Maharashtra – 431136; and Plant 3 – Plot No. 90, Sector 5, Auric City, Shendra, Aurangabad, Maharashtra – 431006. Our business is dependent upon our ability to effectively manage and operate these manufacturing facilities, including maintaining operational efficiency and productivity of our workforce.

Any adverse developments in Maharashtra or western region, including but not limited to regional economic slowdown, disruptions in transportation and logistics, natural calamities, changes in state-level regulations or policies, labour unrest, or other unforeseen events affecting the region, may disrupt our manufacturing activities or impact demand from our customers. Such disruptions could lead to production delays, supply chain constraints, increased operational costs or reduced order inflows.

The details of the revenues from customers located in Maharashtra has been specified below:

Our manufacturing operations are subject to various operating risks, including risks beyond our control such as fire, breakdown or failure of machinery and equipment, industrial accidents, power disruptions, labour issues, severe weather conditions and natural disasters. Any disruption at any of our manufacturing facilities could result in production delays, damage to equipment, loss of inventory, increased repair or replacement costs, or temporary suspension of operations, which may adversely affect our ability to meet customer requirements.

In the event that any such adverse circumstances arise in the region where our manufacturing facilities or major customers are located, our business operations, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations may be materially and adversely affected.

2. We derive a significant part of our revenue from few customers and the loss of any of these customers or a significant reduction in purchases by any of them and if our customers opt for backward integration, it could adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We derived more than 90.00% of our total revenue from operations from the sale of products to top 10 customers for period ended December 31, 2025 Fiscal 2025, Fiscal 2024, and Fiscal 2023. The table below sets forth the revenue derived from our top 1 customer, top 3 customers, top 5 customers and top 10 customers during the respective financial years:

*Names of our customers has not been disclosed to preserve confidentiality and due to non-receipt of their consent. As certified by, M/s. C.N.A. & Associates, Chartered Accountants, by their certificate dated May 13, 2026.

We depend on our top 10 customers for a substantial portion of our total revenue from operations. The loss of our any of our top 10 customers for any reason (including due to loss of, or failure of our customers to win orders; limitation to meet any change in quality specification, change in technology, disputes with a customer, adverse changes in the financial condition of our customers, such as possible bankruptcy or liquidation or other financial hardship) could have a material adverse effect on our business, results of operations and financial condition.

We cater to the requirements of various automotive vehicle and parts manufactures in the automotive industry. We do not have any formal long-term arrangements with any of our customers which obliges them to maintain their business with us, relying instead on purchase orders to dictate sales terms and volumes. Our ability to maintain close and satisfactory relationships with our customers and to consistently provide customized products that meets customer's requirements is important to our business. However, our Company through regular communication and customized products, have a client base who provide us repeated business for their different needs. This relationship with clients has been important for us to sustain competition in the industry. By regularly meeting with our clients, we gain a deep understanding of their requirements. The repetition of orders is basically owing to the quality of the products we provide and also the healthy relationship we maintain. We understand that our industry is highly competitive and maintaining healthy relationship with our clients will help us to be in the competition. If we fail to acquire new consumers, or fail to do so in a cost-effective manner, we may not be able to increase our review or maintain profitability. Although, we are planning to increase our production capacity by establishing an additional manufacturing unit, the revenue composition from our key customers may shift and our dependency may reduce. For further details please refer "Objects of the Issue" in page 75.

Any adverse developments, such as disputes or disqualifications, could lead to significant order reductions from these customers, impacting our revenue, cash flow, and liquidity. If our customers plan to adopt the backward integration strategy then it will adversely affect the revenue and business of our company. Although, there is a trend in customers to outsource the ODM activities to achieve cost benefit and efficiency.

Furthermore, these key customers might choose to switch to competitors or alternative products not offered by us or decline to place order on favourable terms. We cannot guarantee that we will maintain historical business levels with our key customers or significantly reduce our customer concentration, both of which could affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

While we have not encountered any loss of any major customers during the period ended December 31, 2025 and in the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that we would not lose any of our major customers in the future. Any loss of our major customers may reduce our sales and affect our estimates of anticipated sales, and may have an adverse effect on our business, results of operations, financial condition and cash flow. Further pricing pressure from customers may adversely affect our gross margin, profitability and ability to increase our prices, which in turn may materially adversely affect our business, results of operations and financial condition.

3. *We are primarily dependent upon few key suppliers within limited geographical location for procurement of raw materials and we do not have any long-term agreements with such suppliers. Any disruption in the supply of the raw materials or fluctuations in their prices could have a material adverse effect on our business operations and financial conditions.

Our business is significantly affected by the availability, cost and quality of the raw materials required for our manufacturing. The prices and supply of raw materials depend on factors beyond our control, including general economic conditions, competition, production levels, transportation costs and duties. If, for any reason, our suppliers of raw materials should curtail or discontinue their delivery of such materials to us in the quantities we need or at prices that are competitive or expected by us, our ability to meet the requirements of our customers could be impaired and our earnings and business could suffer. The following table sets forth cost of material consumed for the years indicated, which are also expressed as a percentage of total expenses:

Particulars	December 31, 2025		FY 2025-24		FY 2023-24		FY 2022-23
	₹ in Lakhs	% of total expenses	₹ in Lakhs	% of total expenses	₹ in Lakhs	% of total expenses	₹ in Lakhs	% of total expenses
Cost of material consumed	4,364.92	79.15%	4,465.56	74.18%	4,345.49	75.04%	4,927.92	83.30%

Further, we may not be able to pass on any increase in the cost of manufacturing our products to our customers, which may adversely affect our results of operations. Although, we purchase our raw materials from vendors complying to quality and industrial standards, we do not have control over the quality of raw materials they supply, which may adversely affect the quality of our finished products.

We are dependent on third party suppliers for meeting our raw material requirements. Purchases made from our top 10 suppliers for the period ended December 31, 2025 and for the financial year ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023, were ₹ 2,795.62 lakhs, ₹ 2,752.00 lakhs, ₹ 2,470.52 lakhs and ₹ 2,640.39 lakhs representing 64.05%, 61.63%, 56.85% and 53.58% of our total purchases.

We procure raw materials from our suppliers based on purchase orders with a majority of our suppliers and we do not enter any purchase agreements or firm commitments with them. In the absence of long-term contracts, we cannot assure you that we will be able to continue to obtain adequate or continuous supplies of our raw materials, in a timely manner or at all, in the future. Any reductions or interruptions in the supply of raw materials, and any inability on our part to find alternate sources for the procurement of such raw materials at competitive prices or at all, may have an adverse effect on our ability to manufacture our products in a timely or cost-effective manner. While we have not experienced any interruptions in the supply of raw materials in the period ended December 31, 2025, and in the past three Fiscals, we cannot assure you that such instance will not arise in the future.

Our ability to maintain close and satisfactory relationships with our suppliers is important to our business. However, we face a risk that one or more of our existing suppliers may discontinue their supplies to us, and any inability on our part to procure raw materials from alternate suppliers in a timely manner, or on commercially acceptable terms, may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations. If we are unable to source raw materials from key suppliers in a timely manner, our production processes and results of operations may be adversely impacted. There can be no assurance that we would be able to source required quantities or qualities of raw materials in a cost-effective manner in future periods.

4. *Our manufacturing operations are subject to various operating risks, including risks beyond our control such as fire, breakdown or failure of machinery and equipment, industrial accidents, power disruptions, labour issues, severe weather conditions and natural disasters.

Our operations are subject to hazards inherent in manufacturing units such as risk of equipment failure, work accidents, fire, earthquakes, flood and other force majeure events, acts of terrorism and explosions including hazards that may cause injury and loss of life, severe damage to and the destruction of property and equipment and environmental damage. Long periods of business disruption could result in a loss of customers.

We maintain insurance coverage, including insurance in relation to standard fire and other special perils and burglary insurance etc. For detailed of insurance policies, please refer chapter titled “Our Business” on page no. 125. As on December 31, 2025, the total asset insurance coverage maintained by the Company was ₹3,972.00 lakhs and such insurance coverage was 74.30% as a percentage of total asset.

We have experienced a fire incident at one of our manufacturing units in the past. In the financial year 2021-22, a fire broke out at our lighting division (Plant 2), located at Sector L - 18/15, MIDC, Waluj, Aurangabad – 431136. The incident was caused by a short circuit that occurred within the building, resulting in significant damage to both machinery and raw materials stored on-site. The fire affected the manufacturing unit causing extensive destruction to the equipment used in the production process. One of the most heavily impacted machines was the metalizing machine, which suffered severe damage and became inoperable. The fire also destroyed large quantities of raw materials, which were crucial for the company's operations, thus halting production for several days. As a result of this unfortunate event, our company immediately initiated an insurance claim to recover the losses incurred. The insurance process was complex, involving detailed assessments of the damage caused to both the building and its contents. The insurance company evaluated the extent of the destruction, including the machinery and raw materials lost in the fire. After several rounds of discussions and assessments, the insurance claim was processed and the company received compensation for the damages. This payout was received in the financial year 2022-23, helping to mitigate the financial impact of the fire and enabling the company to begin rebuilding and restocking its inventory. The company took swift action to repair the damaged infrastructure, replace the ruined machinery, and replenish the raw materials that were lost. Additionally, improved safety protocols and fire prevention measures were implemented to prevent such incidents in the future. The details of insurance claimed during past three financial years is as follows:

Particulars	December 31, 2025	March 31, 2025	March 31, 2024	March 31, 2023
Insurance Claims Received	-	-	-	159.41*

*Pertains to loss of previous year.

While we believe that the insurance coverage that we maintain is in accordance with industry standards, there can be no assurance that any claim under the insurance policies maintained by us will be honoured fully, in part or on time, or that we have taken out sufficient insurance to cover all material losses. To the extent that we suffer loss or damage for which we did not obtain or maintain insurance, that is not covered by insurance or exceeds our insurance coverage, the loss would have to be borne by us and our cash flows, results of operations and financial performance could be adversely affected. In the event that our Company files a claim under the applicable insurance policy, there is no assurance that we will be able to recover all, or part of the losses incurred. Although we attempt to limit and mitigate our liability for damages arising from negligent acts, errors or omissions through contractual provisions, limitations of liability set forth in our contracts may not be enforceable in all instances or may not otherwise protect us from liability for damages.

In addition, certain liabilities, such as claims of third parties for which we may be required to indemnify our clients, are generally not limited under those agreements. We face the risk of loss resulting from, and the adverse publicity associated with, lawsuits, whether or not such claims are valid. Although we believe we have adequate insurance coverage but that coverage may not continue to be available on reasonable terms or to be available in sufficient amounts to cover one or more large claims, and our insurers may disclaim coverage as to any future claim. Insurance coverage may be an inadequate remedy where the loss suffered is not easily quantifiable, for example, in the event of severe damage to our reputation. The successful assertion of one or more large claims against us that exceed available insurance coverage, or changes in our insurance policies (including premium increases or the imposition of large deductible or co-insurance requirements), could have a material adverse effect on our business, reputation, results of operations, financial condition and cash flows.

5. *Our Promoters, Directors, related entities, subsidiary companies and other ventures promoted by our promoters are engaged in a similar line of business and we do not have a non-compete agreement or contract with any of these entities, and hence a potential conflict of interest may arise.

Certain entities forming part of our Promoter Group, including Riyansh Industries Private Limited and Annu Industries, are engaged in a line of business similar to that of our Company. We do not have any formal non-compete agreement with these entities restricting them from carrying on activities similar to or competing with our business. However, our Company has entered into exclusive business arrangements with both the entities, pursuant to which the business operations relating to the relevant products and activities are undertaken exclusively through our Company.

Notwithstanding such exclusive arrangements, there can be no assurance that potential conflicts of interest will not arise in the future. Our Promoters and Directors may devote time and resources to such entities, which may result in potential conflicts in the allocation of management time, strategic focus, and business opportunities. Additionally, there can be no assurance that business opportunities available to such entities will always be offered to our Company.

While our Company follows internal governance processes and the applicable provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and other applicable regulations to address related party transactions and potential conflicts of interest, there can be no assurance that such measures will fully mitigate all potential conflicts. Any such conflicts may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

6. *There have been certain lapses and discrepancies and/or typographical errors in Statutory filings. We cannot assure you that no regulatory action will be initiated against us and that no penalties will be imposed on us on account of these lapses.

Our company has incurred certain lapses and discrepancies and/or typographical errors in statutory filings in past. We have made certain historical allotments and transfers of equity shares of our company were not in strict compliance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 and the Companies Act, 2013 and independent documentary evidence in relation to certain transactions is unavailable. Moreover, our Company had undertaken a rights issue during FY 2020-21 wherein certain subscription monies were received prior to the opening and after the closure of the offer period, including after the date of allotment, and an allotment of equity shares during FY 2014-15 against conversion of unsecured loans which was not undertaken in compliance with the applicable provisions governing allotment for consideration other than cash, including valuation and approval requirements, for which relevant Compounding application filed with Registrar of Companies, Mumbai II, respectively. Further, in relation to certain historical allotments and share transfers, the consideration was stated to have been received in cash and independent documentary evidence substantiating receipt of such consideration was unavailable, due to which reliance was placed on cash ledgers and certificates issued by independent chartered accountants.

Despite there being no notices from the authorities, there can be no assurance that the concerned regulatory authorities will not impose penalties, compounding fees, initiate further regulatory action or raise additional observations in relation to such matters. Any such action may adversely affect our reputation, business operations and financial condition.

7. *Certain historical filings made by our Company with the Registrar of Companies are not available in certified form and any non-availability of such certified records may expose us to regulatory or legal risks.

Certain historical ROC filings pertaining to our Company, including Form 2 relating to allotment of shares and Form 18 relating to notice of situation/change of registered office, could not be obtained in certified form from the Registrar of Companies. In this regard, our Company had appointed an independent Practicing Company Secretary to conduct a physical search and verification of records with the concerned Registrar of Companies. Pursuant to such search, it was observed that the relevant records are available in physical form with the Registrar of Companies. However, due to the limitation period applicable to preservation and issuance of historical records, the Registrar of Companies was unable to provide certified copies of the aforesaid forms. While our Company has relied upon available records and supporting documents for verification of the relevant corporate actions, there can be no assurance that regulatory authorities or other stakeholders will not raise queries or objections in relation to the non-availability of certified copies of such historical filings. Any adverse observations in this regard may expose us to regulatory actions, penalties or reputational risks, which may adversely affect our business, financial condition and operations.

8. *Our Company procures a substantial portion of its raw materials from suppliers located in the State of Maharashtra and any disruption affecting such region may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our procurement operations are geographically concentrated in the State of Maharashtra, from where we source a substantial portion of the raw materials required for our manufacturing activities. Such geographic concentration exposes us to risks associated with regional disruptions, including industrial unrest, transportation delays, adverse weather conditions, natural calamities, changes in local regulations and policies, supply chain disruptions, shortage of raw materials or any other unforeseen events affecting the region. Any disruption in the supply of raw materials from Maharashtra may adversely impact our production schedules, operational efficiency and ability to fulfil customer orders in a timely manner. Further, dependence on a concentrated procurement region may limit our flexibility in sourcing raw materials at competitive prices. Although we maintain relationships with multiple suppliers, there can be no assurance that alternate sources of procurement would be available on commercially acceptable terms or within required timelines. Any such disruption may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

9. *We have not yet placed orders in relation to the funding Capital Expenditure towards purchase of plant and machinery which is proposed to be financed from the Issue proceeds of the IPO. In the event of any delay in placing the orders, or in the event the vendors are not able to provide the Plant and Machinery in a timely manner, or at all, may result in time and cost overruns and our business, prospects and results of operations may be adversely affected. Our proposed Manufacturing Facility are subject to the risk of unanticipated delays in implementation due to factors including delays in construction, obtaining regulatory approvals in timely manner and cost overruns.

We have not yet placed orders for the plant and machinery proposed to be financed from the proceeds of the Issue. The timely procurement and installation of such plant and machinery are critical to our planned capacity expansion and operational efficiency. Any delay in placing orders, failure to finalize arrangements with vendors, or inability of such vendors to supply the required plant and machinery within the stipulated timelines, or at all, may lead to project delays and cost overruns.

Further, we may face risks relating to price fluctuations, changes in specifications, or unavailability of equipment, which could necessitate alternative sourcing at higher costs or on less favourable terms. Such delays or disruptions could adversely impact the implementation schedule of our expansion plans, our production capabilities, and consequently, our business, financial condition, results of operations, and future prospects.

10. *We require to obtain, renew or maintain statutory and regulatory approvals, licenses, registration and permits for our business, and the failure to obtain or renew them in a timely manner may adversely affect our operations.

We are governed by various laws and regulations for our business and operations. We are required, and will continue to be required, to obtain and hold relevant licenses, approvals and permits at state and central government levels for doing our business. The approvals, licenses, registrations and permits obtained by us may contain conditions, some of which could be onerous. Furthermore, we have applications pending for certain approvals, including Fire No Objection Certificate (Fire NOC for Plant -2- Plot No. L-18/15, Waluj Area, Aurangabad, Maharashtra), in respect of which we have received Form B dated March 23, 2026 under the Maharashtra Fire Prevention and Life Safety Measures Act, 2006; however, due to a technical glitch in the Fire

Department's online portal, the same could not be submitted and the certificate is currently pending. We cannot assure that these approvals will be granted in a timely manner, or at all.

These laws and regulations governing us are increasingly becoming stringent and may in the future create substantial compliance or liabilities and costs. While we endeavour to comply with applicable regulatory requirements, it is possible that such compliance measures may restrict our business and operations, result in increased cost and onerous compliance measures, and an inability to comply with such regulatory requirements may attract penalty. For further details regarding the material approvals, licenses, registrations and permits, which are, pending receipt or renewal, see "Government and Other Statutory Approvals" on page 216.

Furthermore, we cannot assure you that the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits issued to us will not be suspended or revoked in the event of non-compliance or alleged non-compliance with any terms or conditions thereof, or pursuant to any regulatory action. Any suspension or revocation of any of the approvals, licenses, registrations and permits that has been or may be issued to us may affect our business and results of operations.

For further details please refer "Government and Other Statutory Approvals" beginning on page 216.

11. We may be unable to sufficiently obtain, maintain, protect, or enforce our intellectual property and other proprietary rights.

We are operating under the brand "LAPL  " which has significantly contributed to the success of our business. We believe that our success depends on our ability to price the products against its quality and foresee, identify and respond to changing trends in a timely manner. If we are unable to respond in a timely and appropriate manner to changing consumer demand and fail to price our products reasonably, our brand name and brand image may be impaired and may result in a significant decrease in net sales or leave us with a substantial amount of unsold inventory. In addition, any new products or brands that we introduce may not be successfully received by our customers. Although, we have expanded, and expect to continue to spend significant resources, financial and otherwise, on establishing and maintaining our brands, no assurance can be given that our brands will be effective in attracting and growing our customer base or that such efforts will be cost-effective. Further our brand may also be affected if there is any negative publicity associated with our products. Any failure to maintain and enhance our brands may negatively affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our revenues are also influenced by marketing plans. If we adopt unsuccessful marketing and advertising campaigns, we may fail to attract new customers or retain existing customers. If our marketing strategies are unsuccessful, our business and results of operations could be materially adversely affected. In addition, the support of our employees is also critical for the success of our marketing programmes, such as local marketing and any new strategic initiatives we seek to undertake. While we can mandate certain strategic initiatives, we need the active support of our employees if the implementation of these initiatives is to be successful. The failure of our employees to support our marketing programmes and strategic initiatives could adversely affect our ability to implement our business strategy and harm our business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

In addition, increased spending by our competitors on marketing or an increase in the cost of advertising in the markets in which we operate, could adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition. Moreover, a material decreases in our funds earmarked for marketing and advertising or an ineffective advertising campaign relative to that of our competitors, could also adversely affect our business and results of operations.

12. Our Company and its Promoters are party to certain litigation and claims. These legal proceedings are pending at different levels of adjudication before various forums and regulatory authorities. Any adverse decision may make us liable to liabilities/penalties and may adversely affect our reputation, business and financial status.

Our Company and its Promoters are currently involved in legal proceedings in India which are pending at different levels of adjudication before the concerned authority. We cannot assure you that these proceedings will be decided in favour of our Company and its Promoters, as the case may be. Any adverse decision in such proceedings may render us liable to penalties and may have a material adverse effect on the financials and reputation of our Company or its Promoters which may in turn have an adverse effect on our business. Additionally, during the course of our business we are subject to risk of litigation in relation to contractual obligations, employment and labour law related, personal injury, damage to property, etc.

The Company is unable to ascertain the amount involved at this juncture as amount of compensation and/or fine including any imprisonment, which may be adjudged upon the conclusion of the litigation and once the order is passed. However, in the event an adverse order is passed against our Company, it may have a material and/or financial impact on the business of the Company.

We may be required to devote management and financial resources in the defence or prosecution of such legal proceedings. Should any new developments arise, including a change in Indian laws or rulings against us by the appellate courts or tribunals, we may face losses and we may have to make further provisions in our financial statements, which could increase our expenses and our liabilities. Decisions in such proceedings, adverse to our interests, may have a material adverse effect on our business, cash flows, financial condition, and results of operations. Failure to successfully defend these or other claims, or if our current provisions prove to be inadequate, our business and results of operations could be adversely affected. Even if we are successful in defending such cases, we will be subject to legal and other costs relating to defending such litigation, and such costs could be substantial. In addition, we cannot assure you that similar proceedings will not be initiated in the future. Any adverse order or direction in these cases by the concerned authorities, even though not quantifiable, may have an adverse effect on our reputation, brand, business, results of operations and financial condition. For further details, please refer to "Outstanding Litigation and Material Developments" on page 212.

13. Our Company may face several risks associated with the Proposed Expansion, which could hamper our growth, prospects, cash flows and business and financial condition.

Our company may face several risks associated with the procurement, installation and commissioning of plant and machinery proposed to be funded from the Issue proceeds. These risks include delays in vendor finalization, inability of suppliers to deliver equipment within agreed timelines, non-availability of required machinery, changes in technology or specifications, and potential price escalations. Further, the installation and commissioning process may encounter unforeseen technical challenges, regulatory approvals, or logistical constraints. Any such delays or issues may result in time and cost overruns, disruption in our project implementation schedule, and may adversely affect our planned capacity expansion, business operations, financial condition and results of operations.

14. Our inability to accurately forecast order volumes or optimally schedule production, may lead to under or over capacity utilisation, which could adversely affect our manufacturing schedules and related costs.

We are engaged in the automotive industry and we are subject to accurate forecasting of the raw materials and our inability to accurately forecast customer demand or efficiently plan production schedules may lead to underutilisation or overutilisation of our manufacturing capacity, which could adversely affect our operations and financial performance. Our manufacturing operations require effective planning and coordination to ensure optimal utilisation of available capacity. However, our ability to forecast order volumes and plan production schedules depends on various factors, including customer demand patterns, order timing, market conditions, and supply chain dynamics, which may not always be predictable. If we are unable to accurately estimate demand or align our production schedules accordingly, we may experience periods of underutilisation of our manufacturing facilities, resulting in inefficiencies, increased per-unit production costs, and lower margins.

Conversely, if demand exceeds our production planning or available capacity, we may face production bottlenecks, delays in fulfilling customer orders, increased overtime and operational costs, or the need to outsource certain processes at higher costs. Such situations may also affect our ability to maintain timely deliveries and customer satisfaction. Any significant mismatch between forecasted demand and actual order volumes may therefore adversely affect our manufacturing schedules, operating efficiency, cost structure, and overall financial condition.

15. Our operations at our manufacturing facility could be adversely affected by strikes, work stoppages, increased wage demands by our employees, or other industrial disputes. Any such disruption may lead to interruptions in production, delays in order fulfilment, and increased operating costs, which could materially impact our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

Although there are no previous incidents of our company is subject to material mishaps, however, here can be no assurance that similar events will not occur in the future. Further, our Company is also exposed to risks of material mishaps, including accidents, equipment failures, fire, or other unforeseen incidents at our manufacturing facility. Such events may result in injury to personnel, damage to property, temporary or prolonged shutdown of operations, and potential regulatory actions or liabilities, which could adversely affect our business and financial performance.

16. Our business is working capital intensive involving relatively long implementation periods. We require substantial financing for our business operations. Our indebtedness and the conditions and restrictions imposed on by our financing arrangements could adversely affect our ability to conduct our business.

Our business operations require significant working capital to support procurement of raw materials, manufacturing processes, project implementation cycles, inventory maintenance and receivables management. In addition, certain projects undertaken by us may involve relatively long implementation and payment realisation periods, which may result in a gap between the timing of our expenditures and the receipt of payments from customers. As a result, our operations are dependent on the availability of adequate working capital facilities and other forms of financing.

We rely on borrowings and credit facilities from banks and financial institutions to meet our working capital requirements. Such financing arrangements are typically subject to various terms and conditions, including financial covenants, security requirements and restrictions on certain business activities. Our failure to comply with these covenants or meet repayment obligations may result in lenders recalling the facilities, imposing penalties, or enforcing security over our assets.

Further, any increase in our level of indebtedness or changes in interest rates may increase our finance costs and adversely affect our cash flows and profitability. In addition, our ability to obtain additional financing on favourable terms, or at all, may be affected by factors beyond our control, including market conditions, our financial performance, and the policies of lending institutions. If we are unable to obtain sufficient working capital or manage our financing arrangements effectively, it could adversely impact our business operations, liquidity, financial condition and results of operations.

17. Any non-compliance or delays in GST, EPF and ESIC Return Filings may expose us to penalties from the regulators.

In Past, there have been instances where the company has delayed to file GST, EPF and ESIC Returns in specified time. The delays in filings are as follows:

GST:

S.no	Month	Due Date	Actual Filing Date	Delay Filing (In Terms of Days)	Reason for Delay	Corrective measure taken

ESIC:

2.	2022-23	7 days	Administrative	The company has strengthened its accounts compliance, by dedicating a team from HR to ensure timely filings of the returns.

EPF:

1.	June, 2022	15-07-2022	16-07-2022	1	Administrative	The company has strengthened its accounts compliance, by dedicating a team from HR to ensure timely filings of the returns.

18. Our Promoters have issued personal guarantees in relation to debt facilities availed by us, which if revoked, may require alternative guarantees, repayment of amounts due or termination of the facilities.

Our Promoters, namely, Mr. Neeraj Goyal, Mrs. Anita Goyal and Mr. Shubham Goyal, have furnished personal guarantees to secure a significant portion of our existing borrowings availed from Canara Bank Limited and may continue to provide such guarantees and other forms of security subsequent to the listing of our Equity Shares. In the event of any default under our loan agreements, the lenders may invoke such personal guarantees, which could adversely affect the reputation, creditworthiness, and net worth of our Promoters. Such invocation may also impair their ability to continue extending financial and strategic support to our Company and may result in certain impediments in the decision-making process relating to our business. Consequently, any such development could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, cash flows, prospects, and reputation. Further, there can be no assurance that we will be able to procure alternate guarantees or security acceptable to our lenders. Failure to do so may require us to prepay outstanding borrowings or seek additional sources of capital on terms that may be unfavourable, which could further adversely impact our financial condition and cash flows. For further details in relation to the borrowings availed by our Company, please refer to “Statement of Financial Indebtedness” on page 194 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

19. All of our directors lack prior experience as Directors in Listed Companies.

All of our Directors do not have prior experience serving on the board of directors of any other listed company in India. As a result, they may initially require time to fully familiarize themselves with the additional regulatory, compliance, governance, and disclosure obligations applicable to listed entities under Indian law. While they bring relevant industry expertise and professional qualifications, the absence of prior listed company board experience may pose a potential risk to the effectiveness and efficiency of board oversight, decision-making, and compliance in the initial phases following the listing. This could affect our ability to respond swiftly to regulatory changes or best practices in corporate governance, potentially impacting investor confidence.

20. Our insurance coverage may not be adequate to protect us against certain operating hazards and this may have a material adverse effect on our business.

Our manufacturing facilities are situated at Plant 1 - Plot No. C-241, MIDC Waluj, Aurangabad, Maharashtra, 431133, Plant 2 - Plot No. L-18/15, MIDC Waluj, Aurangabad, 431136, Maharashtra and Plot No. 90, Sector 5, Auric City, Shendra, Aurangabad, 431006, Maharashtra. Our business is dependent upon our ability to manage our manufacturing facilities, including productivity of our workforce, which are subject to various operating risks, including those beyond our control, such as the breakdown, fire, failure of equipment or industrial accidents, severe weather conditions and natural disasters. In past, we have experienced a fire incident at one of our manufacturing units located at Sector L - 18/15, MIDC, Waluj, Aurangabad – 431136. The incident was caused by a short circuit that occurred within the building, resulting in significant damage to both machinery and raw materials stored on-site. The fire affected the manufacturing unit causing extensive destruction to the equipment used in the production process.

Any significant malfunction or breakdown of our machinery, our equipment, our IT systems or any other part of our manufacturing processes or systems (together, our “Manufacturing Assets”) may entail significant repair and maintenance costs and cause delays in our operations. However, we cannot assure you that we shall not experience any malfunction or breakdown of our Manufacturing Assets in the future. If we are unable to repair Manufacturing Assets in a timely manner or at all, our operations may need to be suspended until we procure the appropriate Manufacturing Assets to replace them. Further, there can be no assurance that in future, if we suffer accidents or if we are subject to shutdowns due to malfunctions, that we would be able to recover insurance costs covering all losses. Any uninsured losses in the future would adversely impact our results of operations and profitability. Additionally, any regulatory notices received indicating shortfall in quality or inadequacies of quality control measures or in our products could require us to make unplanned shutdowns to our manufacturing facility in the future, resulting in losses and operational difficulties.

Our operations are labour intensive and our dependence on contract labour may result in significant risks for our operations, relating to the cost, availability and skill of such contract workers in India, as well as contingencies affecting availability of such contract workers during our requirement. Further, our contract workers may participate in strikes, work stoppages or other industrial actions in the future which could disrupt our operations. While none of our employees were associated with any labour union and we have not faced any instances of non-availability of contract workers at reasonable cost or any strikes, work stoppages or increased wage demands from such contract workers that led to any adverse effect on our business or operations in the period ended as at December 31, 2025 and in each of the last three Fiscals, there can be no assurance that such instances will not occur in the future. We may not have adequate access to skilled and unskilled workmen at reasonable rates or favourable terms at all times in the future and any increase in the cost of labour or failure to procure availability of labour due to any other reason, will adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows and result of operations.

Further, we may be subject to manufacturing disruptions due to contraventions by us of any of the conditions of our regulatory approvals, which may require our manufacturing facility to cease, or limit, production until the disputes concerning such approvals are resolved. Although we have not experienced any significant disruptions at our manufacturing facility in the past, we cannot assure you that there will not be any disruptions in our operations in the future. Our inability to effectively respond to such events and rectify any disruption, in a timely manner and at an acceptable cost, could lead to the slowdown or shutdown of our operations or the under-utilization of our manufacturing facility, which in turn may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

21. Few documents of the Mr. Neeraj Goyal, promoter of our company, are untraceable.

Certain educational documents of one of our Promoters, Mr. Neeraj Goyal, are currently untraceable. Specifically, the original degree certificate evidencing his academic qualification is not available. However, we possess the final year marksheet which reflects his academic performance and completion of the relevant course. Despite making reasonable and diligent efforts to obtain a duplicate copy of the degree certificate from the concerned university, we have been unable to procure the same. While this does not impact the operational or financial performance of our Company, the absence of such documentation may raise concerns regarding the completeness of records during due diligence processes undertaken by investors, regulators, or other stakeholders.

22. One of our Promoter and Non-Executive Director, Mrs. Anita Goyal has limited formal Educational Qualifications.

Mrs. Anita Neeraj Goyal, aged about 54 years, is the Promoter and Non-Executive Director of our Company. She holds a matriculation certificate from Government Girls Secondary School No. 5, New Delhi. She does not possess higher formal educational qualifications beyond matriculation and may therefore be considered to have limited formal education. While she has accumulated over 22 years of experience in the relevant field and has developed significant practical expertise, the absence of advanced academic qualifications may be perceived by certain investors or stakeholders as a limitation in the context of strategic decision-making or governance standards.

23. Our Company proposes to utilize part of the Net Proceeds for repayment or pre-payment, in full or in part, of all or certain secured borrowings availed by our Company and accordingly, the utilization of that portion of the Net Proceeds will not result in creation of any tangible assets.

We propose to utilize the Net Proceeds towards repayment/prepayment of certain borrowings availed by our Company and general corporate purposes in the manner specified in “Objects of the Issue” on page 75 of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. At this stage, we cannot determine with any certainty if we would require the Net Proceeds to meet any other expenditure or fund any exigencies arising out of competitive environment, business conditions, economic conditions, or other factors beyond our control. In accordance with Sections 13(8) and 27 of the Companies Act, 2013, we cannot undertake any variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds without obtaining the shareholders’ approval through a special resolution. In the event of any such circumstances that require us to undertake variation in the disclosed utilization of the Net Proceeds, we may not be able to obtain the shareholders’ approval in a timely manner, or at all. Any delay or inability in obtaining such shareholders’ approval may adversely affect our business or operations. In light of these factors, we may not be able to undertake variation of objects of the Issue to use any unutilized proceeds of the Offer, if any, or vary the terms of any contract referred to in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, even if such variation is in the interest of our Company. This may restrict our Company’s ability to respond to any change in our business or financial condition by redeploying the unutilized portion of Net Proceeds, if any, or varying the terms of contract, which may adversely affect our business and results of operations.

24. Company may be not be able to procure Equipment/Machineries at costs specified in “Objects to Issue Chapter” of the Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

We intend to utilize portions of the Net Proceeds for funding capital expenditure requirements to set up the proposed manufacturing unit. While we have procured quotations from various vendors in relation to the capital expenditure to be incurred for the proposed manufacturing unit, we have not placed any firm orders for any of them. For details in respect of the foregoing, please refer “Objects of the Issue” beginning on page 75. Such quotations are valid for a certain period of time and may be subject to revisions, and other commercial and technical factors. We cannot assure that we will be able to undertake such capital expenditure at the costs indicated by such quotations or that there will not be cost escalations over and above the contingencies proposed to be funded out of the Net Proceeds. Further, the actual amount and timing of our future capital requirements may differ from our estimates as a result of, among other things, unforeseen delays or cost overruns, unanticipated expenses, regulatory changes, engineering design changes and technological changes.

We have not yet placed orders in relation to the capital expenditure to be incurred for the Proposed Manufacturing Unit. Though we have already acquired project land, construction work and placement of order for plant and machinery is pending. In the event of any delay in placing the orders, or in the event the vendors are not able to provide the plant and machineries or complete the civil and related works etc. in a timely manner, or at all, the same may result in time and cost over-runs. In the event of any delay in placing the orders, or an escalation in the cost of acquisition of the equipment or completion of the civil and related works, or in the event the vendors are not able to provide the equipment and services in a timely manner, or at all, we may encounter time and cost overruns for the proposed manufacturing unit. Further, if we are unable to procure the requisite plant and machinery, equipment and ancillary items or avail services from the vendors from whom we have procured quotations, we cannot assure you that we may be able to identify alternative vendors to provide us with the similar kind of plant and machinery, equipment and ancillary items and services, which satisfy our requirements at acceptable prices. Our inability to procure the machinery and equipment and services at acceptable prices or in a timely manner, may result in an increase in capital expenditure, extension or variation in the proposed schedule of implementation and deployment of the Net Proceeds, thereby resulting in an adverse effect on our business, prospects and results of operations.

Our proposed manufacturing unit remain subject to the potential problems and uncertainties that construction project face including cost overruns or delays. Problems that could adversely affect our expansion plan include labour shortages, increased costs of equipment or manpower, inadequate performance of the equipment and machinery installed in our manufacturing facilities, delays in completion, defects in design or construction, the possibility of unanticipated future regulatory restrictions, delays in receiving governmental, statutory and other regulatory approvals, incremental pre-operating expenses, taxes and duties, interest and finance charges, working capital margin, environment and ecology costs and other external factors which may not be within the control of our management. Further, there can be no assurance that our budgeted costs may be sufficient to meet our proposed capital expenditure requirements. If our actual capital expenditures significantly exceed our budgets, or even if our budgets were sufficient to cover these projects, we may not be able to achieve the intended economic benefits of these projects, which in turn may materially and adversely affect our financial condition, results of operations, cash flows, and prospects.

25. *We have incurred indebtedness, and an inability to comply with repayment and other covenants in our financing agreements could adversely affect our business and financial condition.

We have entered into agreements for short term and long-term borrowings with Canara Bank Limited. The total amounts outstanding and payable by us as secured loans were ₹ 1,637.58 Lakhs as on December 31, 2025. The credit facilities availed by our company are secured by way of Stocks, Book Debts, EMT of Unit Land and Building of company, hypothecation of machinery, furniture, dyes and electrical installation. There may have been instances of delay in payment of our dues in time to the banks, in case we are not able to pay our dues in time, the same may amount to a default under the loan documentation and all the penal and termination provisions therein would get triggered and the loans granted to the Company may be recalled with penal interest. This could severely affect our operations and financial condition. In addition to the above, our loan documentation includes certain terms and conditions and negative covenants, for further details, please refer the section titled “Financial Indebtedness” on 194. Any failure to comply with any condition or covenant under our financing agreements that is not waived by the lending banks or is not otherwise cured by us, may lead to a termination of our credit facilities, acceleration of all amounts due under the said credit facility, which may adversely affect our ability to conduct our business and operations or implement our business plans. Further, the said credit facilities can be renewed/enhanced/cancelled/suspended/reduced and the terms and conditions of the same can be altered by the lending banks, at their discretion. In the event, the lending banks refuse to renew / enhance the credit facilities and/or cancels / suspends / reduces the said credit facilities and/or alters the terms and conditions to the derogation of our Company, our existing operations as well as our future business prospects and financial condition may be severely affected.

26. *Our manufacturing operations are substantially dependent on contractual labour engaged in the production department and any disruption in availability of such labour may adversely affect our operations.

Our Company engages 151 labourers/employees on a contractual basis for carrying out manufacturing and production-related activities. We have entered into formal agreements with contractors and agencies for engagement of such contractual labour. However, the contractual nature of such arrangements may not assure uninterrupted availability of manpower at all times. Any shortage of labour, non-renewal or termination of arrangements with contractors, labour disputes, non-compliance by contractors with applicable labour laws, increase in labour costs, absenteeism or disruption in the availability of contractual workforce may adversely affect our production schedules, operational efficiency and ability to meet customer requirements. Further, there can be no assurance that such contractual arrangements will continue on existing terms or remain adequate for our operational requirements. Any such disruption may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

27. *Our Company may be exposed to risks arising from employee attrition and inability to retain skilled and experienced personnel.

Our business operations are dependent on the continued services of our skilled, semi-skilled and managerial personnel across various functions. We may experience employee attrition from time to time due to competitive industry conditions, better employment opportunities, wage expectations, migration of labour or other factors beyond our control. High attrition rates may result in increased recruitment and training costs, disruption in operations, loss of operational knowledge and reduced productivity. Further, the replacement of experienced personnel may require significant time and resources, and newly recruited employees may not achieve the same level of efficiency immediately. Although we undertake measures for employee retention and workforce management, there can be no assurance that we will be able to retain our existing employees or attract suitably qualified personnel in a timely manner. Any significant attrition or inability to maintain an adequate workforce may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

28. *Our ability to pay dividends in the future will depend upon our future earnings, financial condition, cash flows, working capital requirements, capital expenditure and restrictive covenants in our financing arrangements.

We may retain all our future earnings, if any, for use in the operations and expansion of our business. As a result, we may not declare dividends in the foreseeable future. Any future determination as to the declaration and payment of dividends will be at the discretion of our Board of Directors and will depend on factors that our Board of Directors deem relevant, including among others, our results of operations, financial condition, cash requirements, business prospects and any other financing arrangements. Additionally, under some of our loan agreements, we may not be permitted to declare any dividends, if there is a default under such loan agreements or unless our Company has paid all the dues to the lender up to the date on which the dividend is declared or paid or has made satisfactory provisions thereof. Accordingly, realization of a gain on shareholders’ investments may largely depend upon the appreciation of the price of our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance that our Equity Shares will appreciate in value. For details of our dividend history, please refer “Dividend Policy” on page 189.

29. Our business is significantly dependent on the expertise, experience, and continued involvement of our directors, senior management, and key managerial personnel.

Our business is significantly dependent on the expertise, experience, and continued involvement of our directors, senior management, and key managerial personnel. In past, there has been instances of resignations in the post of Chief Financial Officer. The loss of any of these individuals or their inability to perform their duties effectively could disrupt our operations, hinder strategic decision-making, and negatively impact business performance. Although we have succession plans in place, any such loss could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

30. The average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters is lower than the Issue Price.

Our Promoters average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares in our Company is lower than the Issue Price of the shares proposed to be offered through this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. For Details regarding average cost of acquisition of Equity Shares by our Promoters in our Company, please refer the table below:

Name of Promoters	No. of Equity Shares held	Average cost of Acquisition per Equity Share (in ₹) *
Neeraj Satyaprakash Goyal	55,51,095	3.18

* As Certified by M/s. C.N.A. & Associates (FRN: 128929W) dt. May 13, 2026.

31. Our manufacturing facilities may operate at under-utilized capacity, which could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

The operating performance and profitability of our Company are dependent, inter alia, on efficient utilization of our manufacturing capacity. As on December 31, 2025, our manufacturing facilities operated at an average capacity utilization of approximately 70% of the installed capacity. Capacity utilization levels may vary from time to time depending upon several factors including fluctuations in customer demand, delay or cancellation of orders, availability of raw materials, labour-related issues, machine breakdowns, seasonal demand patterns and changes in market conditions. Any continued under-utilization of manufacturing capacity may lead to operational inefficiencies and increase in fixed costs per unit of production, which may adversely affect our margins and profitability. Further, prolonged under-utilization may impact our return on investment in manufacturing infrastructure and overall operational performance. There can be no assurance that we will be able to achieve or maintain optimal capacity utilization levels in future and any significant under-utilization may adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

32. We are subject to various safety, health, environmental, labour, and workplace-related laws and regulations in the jurisdictions in which we operate. Non-compliance to any of such losses may adversely impact our business operations.

Our operations are subject to various safety, health, environmental, labour and workplace-related laws and regulations in the jurisdictions in which we operate. These regulations govern several aspects of our business including, but not limited to, employee welfare, occupational health and safety standards, environmental protection, waste management, working conditions, and the handling, storage and disposal of materials used in our operations. Compliance with such laws requires us to obtain and maintain various statutory registrations, approvals, licences and permits and adhere to prescribed standards and procedures.

While we endeavour to comply with all applicable laws and regulations, any failure or alleged failure to comply with such requirements, whether due to oversight, operational challenges, regulatory changes, or interpretations by regulatory authorities, may expose us to penalties, fines, suspension or revocation of licences, operational restrictions, litigation, or other regulatory actions. Additionally, regulatory authorities may conduct periodic inspections or investigations of our facilities and operations, and any adverse findings could result in enforcement actions or additional compliance obligations.

Further, changes in applicable laws, regulations, or their interpretation may require us to incur additional costs to ensure compliance, including investments in infrastructure, processes, training, and monitoring systems. Any such non-compliance or increased compliance costs could adversely affect our business operations, financial condition, results of operations and reputation.

33. Any Variation or changes in the Utilization of the Net Proceeds shall be subject to certain compliance requirements.

Any variation or changes in the utilization of the Net Proceeds from the Issue shall be subject to certain regulatory and statutory compliance requirements. We intend to deploy the Net Proceeds in accordance with the objects of the Issue as disclosed in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. However, circumstances may arise that may require us to modify the planned utilization of the Net Proceeds, including changes in business requirements, market conditions, regulatory environment, project timelines, or other operational considerations.

Any such variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds may be subject to approvals from our Board of Directors, shareholders and/or other regulatory authorities, as may be applicable, and may also require compliance with the provisions of applicable laws and regulations, including those prescribed by the relevant regulatory authorities. There can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain such approvals in a timely manner, or at all.

Further, any delay in obtaining the necessary approvals or complying with the prescribed procedures may lead to delays in the deployment of the Net Proceeds, which could adversely affect the implementation of our growth strategies or business plans. Additionally, investors may perceive such variations negatively, which could impact investor confidence and the market price of our Equity Shares. Consequently, any such variation in the utilization of the Net Proceeds may adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

34. Any shortage or unavailability of Electricity or Water may adversely affect our manufacturing operations.

Our manufacturing operations are dependent on the continuous and adequate supply of electricity and water for the operation of machinery, processing activities and other manufacturing requirements at our facilities. Any interruption, shortage, or irregular supply of electricity or water due to infrastructure constraints, regulatory restrictions, natural calamities, technical failures, or other unforeseen circumstances may disrupt our manufacturing processes.

While we may have certain arrangements in place to mitigate the impact of such interruptions, including alternative sources or backup systems, there can be no assurance that such measures will be sufficient to fully offset any prolonged or significant disruption in the supply of electricity or water. Any such interruption may lead to delays in production, increased operational costs, potential damage to equipment or raw materials, and an inability to meet customer orders within stipulated timelines.

Further, any increase in tariffs for electricity or water, changes in government policies relating to utilities, or restrictions on usage may result in higher operating costs. Consequently, any shortage, interruption, or unavailability of electricity or water could adversely affect our manufacturing operations, business, financial condition, and results of operations.

35. Our inability to collect receivables and defaults in payment from our customers could result in the reduction of our profits and affect our cash flows.

The majority of our sales are to customers on a purchase order basis, with standard payment terms. However, for our domestic orders, we typically rely on our monitoring of the ability of our customers to pay and we have a Credit management policy with all our existing customers. While we limit the credit, we extend to what we believe is reasonable based on an evaluation of each customer's financial condition and payment history, we may still experience losses in the event our customers are unable to pay. As a result, while we maintain what we believe to be a reasonable allowance for doubtful receivables for potential credit losses based upon our historical trends and other available information, there is a risk that our estimates may not be accurate. The table below sets forth our trade receivables and receivable turnover days as of the dates stated:

Particulars	Period ended December 31, 2025	As of March 31, 2025	As of March 31, 2024	As of March 31, 2023
Trade receivables (in ₹ Lakhs)	1,128.62	1,103.95	694.01	754.37
Trade receivables days (in days)*	51	61	42	46

Trade receivables days has been calculated as = (Trade receivables/ revenue)*No. of days in the period/year)

*(Based on Restated financials statements).

If we are unable to collect customer receivables or if the provisions for doubtful receivables are inadequate, it could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

36. The Objects of the Issue for which funds are being raised have not been appraised by any bank or financial institution. The deployment of funds is entirely at the discretion of our management and as per the details mentioned in the section titled "Objects of the Issue". Any revision in the estimates may require us to reschedule our expenditure and may have a bearing on our expected revenues and earnings.

The Objects of the Issue for which funds are being raised have not been appraised by any bank, financial institution or any other independent agency. Accordingly, the deployment of the Net Proceeds is based on internal estimates, management assessments and the business plans of our Company. Investors will therefore have to rely on the judgment and discretion of our management with respect to the utilization of the Net Proceeds in accordance with the details set out in the section titled "Objects of the Issue" on page 75.

The cost estimates and proposed schedule of implementation in relation to the Objects of the Issue are based on our management's current expectations and assumptions, which may be subject to change due to various factors including changes in market conditions, regulatory requirements, availability of resources, or other unforeseen circumstances. Consequently, the actual costs or timelines may differ from those currently envisaged.

Any revision in the estimates of the proposed utilization of the Net Proceeds may require us to reschedule our planned expenditure, reallocate funds among the stated objects, or raise additional funds from alternative sources. Such changes may delay the implementation of our business plans and may have a bearing on our expected revenues and earnings. Accordingly, any deviation or delay in the implementation of the Objects of the Issue could adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

37. *We are required to obtain consents under environmental laws for operating our manufacturing facility. However, any failure obtains such consents may adversely impact our business operations.

Our manufacturing operations are subject to various environmental laws and regulations, and we are required to obtain and maintain certain approvals, licences, registrations and consents from the relevant regulatory authorities, including consents to establish and operate our manufacturing facilities. These approvals are required to ensure compliance with applicable environmental standards relating to emissions, effluents, waste management and other environmental parameters.

While we endeavour to obtain and maintain all required environmental approvals and comply with the conditions prescribed therein, there can be no assurance that we will be able to obtain, renew or maintain such consents in a timely manner or at all. Any delay, failure or inability to obtain or renew such approvals, or any non-compliance with the conditions imposed under such approvals, may result in regulatory actions including penalties, fines, suspension or revocation of licences, closure directions or other enforcement measures by the relevant authorities.

Further, environmental laws and regulations may become more stringent over time, requiring us to incur additional capital expenditure or operational costs to ensure compliance with such requirements. Any such failure to obtain, renew or comply with the required environmental consents could disrupt our manufacturing operations and adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

38. *We are required to effectively utilize our manufacturing capacity to maximize operational efficiency, any underutilization may result into under manufacturing and resulting into adverse impact on business operations.

Our business and profitability are dependent on our ability to effectively utilize the installed capacity of our manufacturing facilities. Efficient capacity utilization enables us to optimize production levels, control manufacturing costs and achieve operational efficiencies. However, our ability to maintain optimal capacity utilization may be affected by several factors, including fluctuations in demand for our products, delays in procurement of raw materials, disruptions in supply chains, equipment breakdowns, labour shortages, regulatory constraints, or other operational challenges.

Any significant underutilization of our manufacturing capacity may lead to higher per-unit production costs, inefficient use of resources and reduced operating margins. In addition, lower production levels may result in our inability to achieve economies of scale and may adversely affect our ability to meet fixed operational costs associated with running our manufacturing facilities.

Further, persistent underutilization of our manufacturing facilities may affect our overall productivity and financial performance. Consequently, any inability to effectively utilize our manufacturing capacity may adversely affect our business operations, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations. For further details specified under “Capacity Utilization” please refer Business Chapter on page 125.

39. *We are required to address contingent liabilities not provided for.

Our company had ₹ 7.26 Lakhs of contingent liabilities on December 31, 2025. These contingent liabilities may arise from claims, legal proceedings, tax matters, contractual disputes or other obligations that are dependent on the occurrence or non-occurrence of uncertain future events. There can be no assurance that such matters will be resolved in our favour. In the event that any of these contingent liabilities materialize, we may be required to make significant payments or incur additional expenses, which may not have been previously provided for in our financial statements.

Any adverse outcome in relation to such contingent liabilities could have an impact on our profitability, cash flows and financial position. Further, any requirement to recognize provisions in respect of such liabilities in future periods may adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. Consequently, the crystallization of any contingent liabilities may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

40. *Our Company has in the past entered into related party transactions and may continue to do so in the future. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

Our Company have entered into certain related party transactions with our Promoters, members of the promoter group, Directors and our Group Company in the past which are in compliance with applicable provisions of Companies Act, 2013 and all other applicable laws. For details, please refer “Summary of Related Party Transaction as restated” beginning on page 46. While our Company believes that all such transactions have been conducted on the arm’s length basis, there can be no assurance that it could not have been achieved on more favourable terms had such transactions not been entered into with unrelated parties. Further, it is likely that we may enter into related party transactions in the future and such transactions may potentially involve conflicts of interest. In terms of the Companies Act, 2013 and SEBI LODR Regulations, we are required to adhere to various compliance requirements such as obtaining prior approvals from our Audit Committee, Board and Shareholders for certain party transactions and our undertakes that such related party transactions shall not be done against the interests of the Company and its shareholders as prescribed in the SEBI LODR Regulations. There can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have an adverse effect on our financial condition and results of operations.

a) Below mentioned are the related party transactions as to purchases for the period ended December 31, 2025 and financial year ended March 31, 2025, 2024 and 2023:

Year/Stub period	Purchases (₹ in Lakhs)	% of Total Purchase
December 31, 2025	611.02	12.78%
March 31, 2025	581.60	11.87%
March 31, 2024	629.17	14.51%
March 31, 2023	646.41	12.52%

Furthermore, it is likely that we may enter into related party transactions in the future. Any future transactions with our related parties could potentially involve conflicts of interest. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that such transactions, individually or in the aggregate, will not have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and prospects.

41. *We may require further equity issuance, which will lead to dilution of equity and may affect the market price of our Equity Shares or additional funds through incurring debt to satisfy our capital needs, which we may not be able to procure and any future equity offerings by us.

Our future capital requirements may arise due to business expansion, working capital needs, strategic initiatives or other operational requirements. To meet such requirements, we may seek to raise additional funds through the issuance of equity securities or through debt financing. Any future issuance of equity securities by our Company may result in dilution of the shareholding of existing shareholders, including investors in this Issue, and may adversely affect the market price of our Equity Shares.

Further, there can be no assurance that we will be able to raise additional equity capital on favourable terms, or at all. Market conditions, regulatory developments, investor sentiment and other external factors may impact our ability to access equity markets in the future. Any future equity offerings by our Company, or the perception that such offerings may occur, may also have an adverse effect on the market price of our Equity Shares.

Alternatively, if we seek to raise funds through debt financing, such borrowings may increase our indebtedness and could subject us to restrictive covenants, repayment obligations and increased interest costs. Additionally, there can be no assurance that such debt financing will be available to us on acceptable terms, or at all.

42. *We may be negatively impacted by any early obsolescence of our manufacturing equipment and the spare parts or software used in such equipment.

We may require additional capital in the future to support our business operations, expansion plans, working capital requirements or other strategic initiatives. Such capital requirements may be met through the issuance of additional equity securities, debt financing or a combination of both. Any future issuance of equity securities by our Company may result in dilution of the shareholding of our existing shareholders, including investors in this Issue, and may adversely affect the market price of our Equity Shares.

Further, there can be no assurance that we will be able to raise additional equity capital on terms that are favourable to us, or at all. Market conditions, investor sentiment, regulatory requirements and other factors beyond our control may impact our ability to access equity markets in the future. Alternatively, if we seek to raise additional funds through debt financing, such borrowings may increase our indebtedness and may subject us to restrictive covenants, repayment obligations and increased interest costs. Additionally, there can be no assurance that such debt financing will be available to us on acceptable terms, or at all.

Any future equity issuances, or the perception that such issuances may occur, could also adversely affect the prevailing market price of our Equity Shares. Consequently, our inability to raise additional funds when required, or any dilution resulting from future equity issuances, could adversely affect our business, financial condition, results of operations and cash flows.

43. *Our Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management may have interests other than reimbursement of expenses incurred and normal remuneration or benefits in our Company.

Our Directors, Key Managerial Personnel and Senior Management may be interested in our Company, in addition to regular remuneration, sitting fees or benefits and reimbursement of expenses, to the extent of the Equity Shares held by them in our Company, and bonuses, dividend payable or other distributions on such Equity Shares. Our directors may be regarded as interested to the extent of the transactions entered into in the ordinary course of business with the companies in which our directors hold directorship and also in the Equity Shares held by them or by their relatives, if any, or that may be subscribed by or allotted to them or the companies, firms and trusts, in which they are interested as directors, members, partners, trustees and promoter, pursuant to this Issue. Further, our Promoters, are interested in promotion and formation of the Company. Further, our Executive Directors are also directors on the boards, or are shareholders, and trustees of entities with which our Company has had related party transactions and may be deemed to be interested to the extent of the payments made by our Company, if any, to these entities.

44. *Our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group will continue jointly to retain majority control over our Company after the Issue, which will allow them to determine the outcome of matters submitted to shareholders for approval.

As of the date of this Draft Red Herring Prospectus, our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group holds 96.79% of our issued, subscribed and paid-up Equity Share capital. After the completion of the Issue, our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group will continue to control our Company and exercise significant influence over our business policies and affairs and all matters requiring shareholders' approval, including the composition of our Board, the adoption of amendments to our certificate of incorporation, the approval of mergers, strategic acquisitions or joint ventures or the sales of substantially all of our assets, and the policies for dividends, lending, investments and capital expenditures through their shareholding after the Issue. Such concentration of ownership also may delay, defer or even prevent a change in control of our Company and may make some transactions more difficult or impossible without the support of such controlling shareholders. In accordance with applicable laws and regulations, our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group will have the ability to exercise, directly or indirectly, a significant influence over our business which could conflict with our interests or the interests of its other shareholders. We cannot assure you that our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group will act to resolve any conflicts of interest in our favour and any such conflict may adversely affect our ability to execute our business strategy or to operate our business. Accordingly, the interests of our Promoters and members of the Promoter Group in their capacity as our shareholders may conflict with your interests and the interests of our other shareholders.

45. *Adverse publicity regarding our products could negatively impact us.

Adverse publicity regarding any of our products or similar products marketed or sold by others could negatively affect us. If any studies raise or substantiate concerns regarding the efficacy or safety of our products or other concerns, our reputation could be harmed and demand for our products could diminish, which could have a material adverse effect on growth in new customers and sales of our product, leading to a decline in revenues, cash collections, and ultimately our ability to meet operating cash flow requirements.

46. *We are exposed to losses due to fraud, employee negligence, theft or similar incidents, which may have an adverse impact on our business, financial condition, cash flows and results of operations.

Although we closely monitor our employees, misconduct, including acts of theft and fraud, by employees or executives could include binding us to transactions that exceed authorized limits or present unacceptable risks or hiding unauthorized or unlawful activities from us, which may result in substantial financial losses and damage to our reputation and loss of business from our customers. Our dependence on our workforce to carry out various functions in our manufacturing processes and delivery services also subjects us to risks associated with the improper handling of goods at our facilities. Employee or executive misconduct could also involve the improper use or disclosure of confidential information, which could result in regulatory sanctions and serious reputational or financial harm, including harm to our brand. It is not always possible to prevent employee or executive misconduct, and the measures implemented to deter and detect such activities may not be effective in every instance. Any instances of such misconduct could adversely affect our reputation. While we have not faced any instances of losses due to fraud, employee negligence or theft in the period ended December 31, 2024 and in Fiscals 2024, 2023 and 2022, there can be no assurance that these instances will not occur in the future.

47. *Industry information included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus has been derived from industry reports. There can be no assurance that such third-party statistical, financial and other industry information is either complete or accurate.

We have relied on the reports of certain independent third party for purposes of inclusion of such information in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus. These reports are subject to various limitations and based upon certain assumptions that are subjective in nature. We have not independently verified data from such industry reports and other sources. Although, we believe that the data may be considered to be reliable, their accuracy, completeness and underlying assumptions are not guaranteed and their dependability cannot be assured. While we have taken reasonable care in the reproduction of the information, the information has not been prepared or independently verified by us, or any of our respective affiliates or advisors and, therefore, we make no representation or warranty, express or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of such facts and statistics. Due to possibly flawed or ineffective collection methods or discrepancies between published information and market practice and other problems, the statistics herein may be inaccurate or may not be comparable to statistics produced for other economies and should not be unduly relied upon. Further, there is no assurance that they are stated or compiled on the same basis or with the same degree of accuracy as may be the case elsewhere. Statements from third parties that involve estimates are subject to change, and actual amounts may differ materially from those included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

48. *Information relating to the historical capacity of our manufacturing facilities included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is based on various assumptions and estimates and our future production and capacity may vary.

Information relating to the historical capacity of our manufacturing facilities included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus is based on various assumptions and estimates of our management, including proposed operations, assumptions relating to availability and quality of raw materials and assumptions relating to potential utilization levels, downtime resulting from scheduled maintenance activities, downtime resulting from change in stock keeping units for a particular product, unscheduled breakdowns and expected operational efficiencies. The capacity information has been certified by Mr. Makarand G. Rajendra & Mr. Shrikant S. Kondo, Chartered Engineers & Valuer, pursuant to the certificate dated May 07, 2026. Actual and future production levels and capacity utilization rates may differ significantly from the estimated production capacities or historical estimated capacity information of our facilities due to various factors including the product mix manufactured in a given period, performance of customers and their various brands in market, maintenance of our machines and infrastructure and continuous availability of power and labor. No undue reliance shall be placed on our historical capacity information for our existing manufacturing facilities included in this Draft Red Herring Prospectus.

EXTERNAL RISK FACTORS

49. Geopolitical Tensions May Adversely Impact Our Business, Operations and Financial Performance

Our business operations may be affected by adverse changes in global and regional geopolitical conditions. Increasing geopolitical tensions, including conflicts between countries, changes in diplomatic relations, trade restrictions, sanctions, and protectionist policies, may disrupt global supply chains, increase input costs, and create volatility in financial markets. Such developments may lead to uncertainty in the availability and pricing of raw materials, logistics challenges, currency fluctuations, and reduced investor confidence. Additionally, any escalation in geopolitical conflicts or imposition of trade barriers may impact our ability to conduct business with international counterparties, if any, and could adversely affect our growth prospects. While we continuously monitor global developments and attempt to mitigate associated risks, there can be no assurance that such measures will be sufficient. Any significant geopolitical disruptions may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, and results of operations.

50. Natural calamities and force majeure events may have an adverse impact on our business.

The occurrence of natural disasters, including cyclones, storms, floods, earthquakes, tsunamis, tornadoes, fires, explosions, pandemic disease and man-made disasters, including acts of terrorism and military actions, could adversely affect our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition. Terrorist attacks and other acts of violence or war in India or globally may adversely affect the Indian securities markets. In addition, any deterioration in international relations, especially between India and its neighbouring countries, may result in investor concern regarding regional stability which could adversely affect the price of the Equity Shares. In addition, India has witnessed local civil disturbances in recent years and it is possible that future civil unrest as well as other adverse social, economic or political events in India could have an adverse effect on our business. Such incidents could also create a greater perception that investment in Indian companies involves a higher degree of risk and could have an adverse effect on our business and the market price of the Equity Shares.

51. The Indian tax regime is currently undergoing substantial changes which could adversely affect our business.

The Goods and service tax ("GST") that has been implemented with effect from July 1, 2017 combines taxes and levies by the GoI and state governments into a unified rate structure, and replaces indirect taxes on goods and services such as central excise duty, service tax, customs duty, central sales tax, state VAT, cess and surcharge and excise that were being collected by the GoI and state governments.

As regards the General Anti-Avoidance Rules ("GAAR"), The general anti avoidance rules ("GAAR") provisions have been made effective from assessment year 2018-19 onwards, i.e.; financial Year 2017-18. The GAAR provisions intend to declare an arrangement as an "impermissible avoidance arrangement", if the main purpose or one of the main purposes of such arrangement is to obtain a tax benefit, and satisfies at least one of the following tests (i) creates rights, or obligations, which are not ordinarily created between persons dealing at arm's length; (ii) results, directly or indirectly, in misuse, or abuse, of the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961; (iii) lacks commercial substance or is deemed to lack commercial substance, in whole or in part; or (iv) is entered into, or carried out, by means, or in a manner, that is not ordinarily engaged for bona fide purposes. If GAAR provisions are invoked, the tax authorities will have wider powers, including denial of tax benefit or a benefit under a tax treaty. In the absence of any precedents on the subject, the application of these provisions is uncertain. As the taxation regime in India is undergoing a significant overhaul, its consequent effects on economy cannot be determined at present and there can be no assurance that such effects would not adversely affect our business, future financial performance and the trading price of the Equity Shares.

52. A slowdown in economic growth in India may adversely affect our business, financial condition, cash flows, results of operations and prospects.

The performance and growth of our business are necessarily dependent on economic conditions prevalent in India, which may be materially and adversely affected by Centre or state political instability or regional conflicts, a general rise in interest rates, inflation, and economic slowdown elsewhere in the world or otherwise. Further, there have been periods of slowdown in the economic growth of India. India's economic growth is affected by various factors including domestic consumption and savings, balance of trade movements, namely export demand and movements in key imports (oil and oil products), global economic uncertainty and liquidity crisis, volatility in exchange currency rates and annual rainfall which affects agricultural production. Any continued or future slowdown in the Indian economy or a further increase in inflation could have a material adverse effect on the price of our raw materials and demand for our products and, as a result, on our business and financial results. The Indian financial market and the Indian economy are influenced by economic and market conditions in other countries, particularly in emerging market in Asian countries. Financial turmoil in Asia, Europe, the U.S. and elsewhere in the world in recent years has affected the Indian economy. Although economic conditions are different in each country, investors' reactions to developments in one country can have adverse effects on the securities of companies in other countries, including India. A loss in investor confidence in the financial systems of other emerging markets may cause increased volatility in Indian financial markets and, indirectly, in the Indian economy in general. Any worldwide financial instability, including the financial crisis and fluctuations in the stock markets in China and further deterioration of credit conditions in the U.S. or European markets, could also have a negative impact on the Indian economy. Financial disruptions may occur again and could harm our business and financial results.

53. Our business and results of operations could be adversely affected by disruptions in global economic and geo political conditions.

As substantially all of our operations are dependent on our customers who have their head offices or parent companies situated outside India, our financial performance and growth are necessarily dependent on economic conditions prevalent globally. The global economy may be materially and adversely affected by political instability or regional conflicts; a general rise in interest rates; inflation; exchange rate fluctuations; changes in tax, trade, and monetary policies; occurrence of natural or manmade disasters; downgrade in debt rating; and adverse economic conditions occurring elsewhere in the world, such as a slowdown in economic growth in China, the repercussions of the United Kingdom exit from the European Union and other matters. While the Indian economy has grown significantly in recent years, it has experienced economic slowdowns in the past due to global economic and geo political conditions. The Indian economy in particular could be adversely impacted by inflationary pressures, currency depreciation, the poor performance of its large agricultural and manufacturing sectors, trade deficits, recent initiatives by the Indian government and other factors. Unfavourable changes in the above factors or in other business and economic conditions affecting our customers could result in a corresponding decline in our business.

54. Our performance is linked to the stability of policies and the political situation in India.

The Government of India has traditionally exercised, and continues to exercise, a significant influence over many aspects of the economy. Our business, and the market price and liquidity of our Equity Shares, may be affected by interest rates, changes in government policy, taxation, social and civil unrest and other political, economic or other developments in or affecting India. Any political instability in India may adversely affect the Indian securities markets in general, which could also adversely affect the trading price of our Equity Shares. Any political instability could delay the reform of the Indian economy and could have a material adverse effect on the market for our Equity Shares. There can be no assurance to the investors that these liberalization policies will continue under the newly elected government. Protests against privatization could slow down the pace of liberalization and deregulation. The rate of economic liberalization could change, and specific laws and policies affecting companies in the industrial equipment manufacturing sectors, foreign investment, currency exchange rates and other matters affecting investment in our securities could change as well. A significant change in India's economic liberalization and deregulation policies could disrupt business and economic conditions in India and thereby affect our business.

55. If certain labour laws become applicable to us, our profitability may be adversely affected.

India has stringent labour legislations that protect the interests of workers, including legislation that sets forth detailed procedures for dispute resolution and employee removal and legislation that imposes certain financial obligations on employers upon retrenchment. Any change or modification in the existing labour laws may affect our flexibility in formulating labour related policies.

56. Government regulation of foreign ownership of Indian securities may have an adverse effect on the price of the Equity Shares.

Foreign ownership of Indian securities is subject to government regulation. Under foreign exchange regulations currently in affect in India, transfer of shares between non-residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the rupees proceeds from the sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection/ tax clearance certificate from the Income Tax authorities. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained.

57. A third party could be prevented from acquiring control of us because of the anti-takeover provisions under Indian law.

There are provisions in Indian law that may discourage a third party from attempting to take control over us, even if a change in control would result in the purchase of your Equity Shares at a premium to the market price or would otherwise be beneficial to you. Under the Takeover Regulations an acquirer has been defined as any person who, directly or indirectly, acquires or agrees to acquire shares or voting rights or control over a company, whether individually or acting in concert with others. These provisions may discourage or prevent certain types of transactions involving an actual or threatened change in control of us.

58. Our ability to raise foreign capital may be constrained by Indian law.

As an Indian company, we are subject to exchange controls that regulate borrowing in foreign currencies. Regulatory restrictions may limit our financing sources for our projects under development and hence could constrain our ability to obtain financings on competitive terms and refinance existing indebtedness. In addition, we cannot assure you that an adverse effect on our ability to raise foreign capital, which in turn may affect our business, prospects, financial condition and results of operation.

59. Holders of Equity Shares may be restricted in their ability to exercise pre-emptive rights under Indian law and thereby suffer future dilution of their ownership position.

A public limited company incorporated in India must offer its equity shareholders pre-emptive rights to subscribe to a proportionate number of equities shares to maintain their existing ownership, prior to issuance of any new equity shares, unless the pre-emptive rights have been waived by the adoption of a special resolution by a three-fourths majority of the equity shareholders voting on such resolution.

If you are a foreign investor and the law of the foreign jurisdiction that you are in does not permit the exercise of such pre-emptive rights without our filing an offering document or registration statement with the applicable authority in such foreign jurisdiction, you will be unable to exercise such pre-emptive rights, unless we make such a filing. If we elect not to file a registration statement, the new securities may be issued to a custodian, who may sell the securities for your benefit. The value such custodian receives on the sale of any such securities and the related transaction costs cannot be predicted. To the extent that you are unable to exercise pre-emptive rights granted in respect of our Equity Shares, your proportional interests in our Company would be diluted.

60. Any downgrading of India's debt rating by an independent agency may harm our ability to raise financing.

Any adverse revisions to India's credit ratings international debt by international rating agencies may adversely affect our ability to raise additional overseas financing and the interest rates and other commercial terms at which such additional financing is available. This could have an adverse effect on our ability to fund our growth on favourable terms or at all, and consequently adversely affect our business and financial performance and the price of our Equity Shares.

61. We are subject to risks arising from interest rate fluctuations, which could adversely impact our business, financial condition and operating results.

Changes in interest rates could significantly affect our financial condition and results of operations. If the interest rates for future borrowings increase significantly, our cost of servicing such debt will increase. This may negatively impact our results of operations, planned capital expenditures and cash flows.

62. Foreign investors are subject to foreign investment restrictions under Indian law that limits our ability to attract foreign investors, which may adversely impact the market price of the Equity Shares.

Under the foreign exchange regulations currently in force in India, transfer of shares between non- residents and residents are freely permitted (subject to certain exceptions) if they comply with the pricing guidelines and reporting requirements specified by the RBI. If the transfer of shares, which are sought to be transferred, is not in compliance with such pricing guidelines or reporting requirements or fall under any of the exceptions referred to above, then the prior approval of the RBI will be required. Additionally, shareholders who seek to convert the Rupee proceeds from a sale of shares in India into foreign currency and repatriate that foreign currency from India will require a no objection/ tax clearance certificate from the income tax authority. There can be no assurance that any approval required from the RBI or any other government agency can be obtained on any particular terms or at all.

Illustration of the Book Building and Price Discovery Process: Bidders should note that this example is solely for illustrative purposes and is not specific to the Issue. Bidders can bid at any price within the Price Band. For instance, assume a Price Band of ₹20 to ₹ 24 per share, Issue size of 3,000 Equity Shares and receipt of five Bids from Bidders, details of which are shown in the table below. The illustrative book given below shows the demand for the Equity Shares of the Issuer at various prices and is collated from Bids received from various investors.

Bid Quantity	Bid Amount (₹)	Cumulative Quantity	Subscription
500	24	500	16.67%
1,000	23	1,500	50.00%
1,500	22	3,000	100.00%
2,000	21	5,000	166.67%
2,500	20	7,500	250.00%

Objectives and Benefits of Capital Expenditure towards Setting up a New Manufacturing Facility:

➤ Current Capacity Utilization and Operational Constraints:

At present, our Company operates at an average capacity utilization of 66.97% across its existing facilities. Certain raw materials and components, including plastic moulded products, are currently procured from Annu Industries, a proprietorship firm of one of our promoters, Mrs. Anita Neeraj Goyal. These components will be manufactured in-house with the availability of additional space and supporting infrastructure. The existing facilities have space limitations that restrict the Company's ability to expand manufacturing operations and improve operational efficiencies. Accordingly, the proposed capital expenditure is intended to facilitate the addition of manufacturing capacity for lighting and motor products, as well as certain raw material components that are presently being outsourced.

➤ Capacity Expansion of Existing Products:

Our Company currently operates in three manufacturing facilities located at Aurangabad, Maharashtra, with a total combined area of approximately 3,750.00 sq. mt., where we manufacture automotive components and accessories including lighting, motor, mirror and other ancillary components. We propose to increase our production capacity by establishing an additional manufacturing facility at Plot No. 68-1, Sector No. 5, Auric City, Shendra, Aurangabad, Maharashtra, admeasuring approximately 9,764 sq. mt. The proposed facility will support the manufacturing of existing and additional products, including plastic moulded components, lighting and motor products, to address demand from existing customers and requirements from new customers.

➤ Benefit of Location:

The proposed manufacturing unit will be established at Aurangabad Industrial City (AURIC), Shendra, Aurangabad, Maharashtra. The location forms part of an industrial development area where multiple industrial projects are being implemented and provides access to industrial infrastructure and connectivity that supports manufacturing operations. The area is also connected to key transport corridors, including the Mumbai–Nagpur Expressway (Samruddhi Mahamarg) and the Delhi–Mumbai Industrial Corridor (DMIC), which may facilitate movement of goods and support business operations.

➤ Compliance with Regulatory Standards:

The proposed facility will be designed and constructed in accordance with applicable regulatory requirements and industry standards. The Company has obtained the following approvals and certificates from the relevant authorities:

- (i) Consent to Establish under the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974 and the Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981
- (ii) Building and Drainage Plan Approval Certificate;
- (iii) Commencement Certificate; and
- (iv) Provisional Fire Approval.

The Company shall obtain the remaining approvals, registrations and certifications from the relevant regulatory authorities at the appropriate stages and will ensure compliance with applicable quality and operational standards.

➤ Product Testing and Quality Assurance:

The proposed facility will incorporate manufacturing and testing infrastructure for the evaluation of automotive components under operating conditions. The Company intends to procure special purpose machines (SPMs), which are custom-designed equipment developed for performance evaluation of automotive components under specified load and operational parameters. These machines enable load-based testing and performance verification to assess the functioning of components under defined conditions. Such testing infrastructure supports monitoring of product performance parameters and consistency in manufacturing processes.

SPM-based performance test rigs are critical for ensuring the quality and reliability of automotive components. With their custom-built designs, load-based evaluations, and specialized test parameters, these machines provide essential insights into component durability and efficiency. We believe that by investing in such advanced testing solutions, we can maintain high standards of product performance, ultimately enhancing vehicle safety and reliability.

GLOBAL ECONOMY

Macroeconomic Environment

Global growth is projected to remain resilient at 3.3 percent in 2026 and at 3.2 percent in 2027: rates similar to the estimated 3.3 percent outturn in 2025. The forecast marks a small upward revision for 2026 and no change for 2027 compared with that in the October 2025 World Economic Outlook (WEO). This steady performance on the surface results from the balancing of divergent forces. Headwinds from shifting trade policies are offset by tailwinds from surging investment related to technology, including artificial intelligence (AI), more so in North America and Asia than in other regions, as well as fiscal and monetary support, broadly accommodative financial conditions, and adaptability of the private sector. Global headline inflation is expected to decline from an estimated 4.1 percent in 2025 to 3.8 percent in 2026 and further to 3.4 percent in 2027. The inflation projections are also broadly unchanged from those in October and envisage inflation returning to target more gradually in the United States than in other large economies.

Risks to the outlook remain tilted to the downside. re-evaluation of productivity growth expectations about AI could lead to a decline in investment and trigger an abrupt financial market correction, spreading from AI-linked companies to other segments and eroding household wealth. Trade tensions could flare up, prolonging uncertainty and weighing more heavily on activity. Domestic political tensions or geopolitical tensions could erupt, introducing new layers of uncertainty and disrupting the global economy through their impact on financial markets, supply chains, and commodity prices. Larger fiscal deficits and high public debt could put pressure on long-term interest rates and, in turn, on broader financial conditions. On the upside, activity could be further lifted by AI-related investment and eventually transform into sustainable growth if faster AI adoption translates into strong productivity gains and increased business dynamism. Activity could also be supported by a sustained easing in trade tensions. Policies to foster stability and sustainably lift medium-term growth prospects require a keen focus on restoring fiscal buffers, preserving price and financial stability, reducing uncertainty, and implementing structural reforms without further delay.

Growth Projections (Real GDP Growth, % Change)

(Source: <https://www.imf.org/en/publications/weo/issues/2026/01/19/world-economic-outlook-update-january-2026>)

Global growth is expected to remain steady, with the momentum in high-tech sectors set to slow but to continue to partly offset the drag elsewhere. While tariffs and uncertainty are projected to continue to weigh on the level of activity, the effect on growth is expected to fade during 2026 and 2027. At 3.3 percent for 2026 and 3.2 percent for 2027, the forecasts mark a slight deceleration from the estimated 3.3 percent achieved in 2025. The forecast for 2026 is revised upward by 0.2 percentage point compared with that in the October 2025 WEO, while the forecast for 2027 is unchanged. There are, however, significant revisions for some countries, with the changes in different directions.

Growth in advanced economies is projected to be 1.8 percent in 2026 and 1.7 percent in 2027. In the United States, the economy is projected to expand by 2.4 percent in 2026, supported by fiscal policy and a lower policy rate, while the impact of higher trade barriers also gradually wanes. This 0.3 percentage point upward revision from the October forecast reflects a stronger-than expected GDP outturn in the third quarter of 2025, a rebound in activity in the first quarter of 2026 compared with that in the fourth quarter of 2025 following the end of the federal government shutdown, and the associated carryover. Growth is projected to remain solid at 2.0 percent in 2027, with a near-term fiscal boost from tax incentives for corporate investment under the One Big Beautiful Bill Act of 2025. Technology-driven momentum is expected to moderate but still provide some offset to lower immigration and moderating consumption.

In the euro area, growth is expected to remain steady at 1.3 percent in 2026 and at 1.4 percent in 2027. The slightly faster growth in 2027 reflects projected increases in public spending, notably in Germany, alongside continued strong performance in Ireland and Spain. The forecast is broadly unchanged from that in October, with the subdued growth rate reflecting unresolved structural headwinds. The impact of the planned increase in defense spending is expected to materialize only in subsequent years, given commitments to reach target levels gradually by 2035. Compared with other regions, the euro area benefits less from the recent technology-driven investment boost. Lingering effects of the persistent rise in energy prices after Russia's invasion of Ukraine will continue to drag on manufacturing, with additional pressure from the real appreciation of the euro relative to currencies of countries exporting similar products.

In other advanced economies, growth is projected to decelerate to 1.6 percent in 2025 and pick up to 2.1 percent in 2026. In some cases, currency appreciation offsets the favorable effects of more accommodative financial conditions, while the effective tariff rates are the same or slightly higher than in the April WEO reference forecast because of new tariffs imposed on imports of vehicle parts in May and a doubling of tariffs on steel and aluminium in June.

In emerging market and developing economies, growth is expected to continue to hover just above 4.0 percent in 2026 and 2027. Relative to the projection in October, growth in 2025 for China is revised upward by 0.2 percentage point to 5.0 percent. The revision reflects stimulus measures and additional policy bank lending for investment. Growth for 2026 is also revised upward by 0.3 percentage point to 4.5 percent, reflecting the lower US effective tariff rates on Chinese goods as a result of the yearlong trade truce agreed to in November and stimulus measures that are assumed to be implemented over two years. The economy's growth rate is expected to decelerate to 4.0 percent in 2027 as structural headwinds assert themselves. In India, growth is revised upward by 0.7 percentage point to 7.3 percent for 2025, reflecting the better-than expected outturn in the third quarter of the year and strong momentum in the fourth quarter. Growth is projected to moderate to 6.4 percent in 2026 and 2027 as cyclical and temporary factors wane.

In the Middle East and Central Asia, growth is projected to accelerate from 3.7 percent in 2025 to 3.9 percent in 2026 and to 4.0 percent in 2027, supported by higher oil output, resilient local demand, and ongoing reforms. Growth is also expected to accelerate in sub-Saharan Africa, from 4.4 percent in 2025 to 4.6 percent in 2026 and 2027, supported by macroeconomic stabilization and reform efforts in key economies. In Latin America and the Caribbean, growth is projected to moderate to 2.2 percent in 2026 and bounce to 2.7 percent in 2027 as countries in the region approach potential from different cyclical positions. In emerging and developing Europe, a sharp slowdown in 2025 to a growth rate of 2.0 percent is expected to reverse, with economies in the region expanding at an average rate of 2.3 percent in 2026 and 2.4 percent in 2027. In most regions, the rebound also reflects the fading effect of shifting trade policies.

World trade volume growth is expected to decline from 4.1 percent in 2025 to 2.6 percent in 2026 and increase to 3.1 percent in 2027. These dynamics reflect patterns of front-loading and trade flow adjustments to new policies. Over the medium term, expansionary fiscal packages in economies with current account surpluses are expected to contribute to declining global imbalances. Countering this force is the technology-driven business investment surge, which is expected to continue to attract capital flows to the United States even as it moderates.

Global inflation is projected to continue its decline, with headline inflation falling to 3.8 percent in 2026 and 3.4 percent in 2027. This is virtually unchanged from that in the October 2025 WEO, with overarching trends of softening demand and lower energy prices remaining intact. Divergence between the United States and most other countries lingers. With pass-through from higher tariffs gradually materializing, US core inflation is projected to return to the country's 2 percent target during 2027. Australia and Norway are also projected to see some drawn-out persistence in above-target inflation. In the United Kingdom, inflation, which increased last year partly due to one-off regulated price changes, is expected to return to target by the end of 2026 as a weakening labor market continues to exert downward pressure on wage growth. In Japan, inflation is expected to moderate in 2026 and converge toward the country's target in 2027, as food and commodity prices ease. In the euro area, headline inflation is projected to hover around 2 percent, with core inflation projected to decline to that level in 2027. Inflation in China is projected to start rising from low levels, whereas inflation in India is expected to go back to near target levels after a marked decline in 2025 driven by subdued food prices.

Inflation Forecast

Under the baseline, global headline inflation is projected to decline to 4.2 percent in 2025 and to 3.7 percent in 2026. This path is virtually the same as depicted in the previous projections, but there is variation across countries and regions.

Inflation forecasts are revised upward in quite a few economies, relative to the October 2024 WEO, which serves as a pre-policy-shift benchmark. Among advanced economies, the most notable cases are the United Kingdom and the United States. In the United Kingdom, headline inflation, which started picking up in 2024, is expected to continue rising in 2025 partly because of changes in regulated prices. This is projected to be temporary, with a loosening labor market and moderating wage growth eventually helping inflation return to target at the end of 2026.

In the United States, inflation is expected to pick up beginning in the second half of 2025, as the impact of tariffs is no longer absorbed within supply chains and instead passed on to consumers. Inflation then is expected to return to the Federal Reserve's 2 percent target during 2027. This forecast assumes only modest second-round effects, implying potential upside risks to US inflation in the baseline amid downside risks to employment.

Among emerging market and developing economies, inflation forecasts for Brazil and Mexico are revised upward. For Brazil, the revision is more pronounced and in part reflects the stabilization of inflation expectations above target rates, reflecting credibility challenges associated with fiscal policy uncertainties last year, although relief from more recent currency appreciation is expected to arrive in late 2025 and in 2026. For Mexico, volatile categories such as food and more-persistent-than-expected services inflation contribute to the upward revision.

For several other economies, inflation forecasts are revised downward, compared with the October 2024 WEO. In much of emerging and developing Asia, that is the case. This is largely a reflection of lower-than-expected outturns, with food, energy, and administrative prices playing a significant role (for example, in China, India, and Thailand).

Taken together with the GDP growth forecasts, the picture varies across countries. US growth in 2025, forecast at 2.0 percent, is lower than the 2.2 percent projected in the October 2024 WEO. Inflation in 2025, forecast at 2.7 percent, is higher than the 1.9 percent projected in the October 2024 WEO. Relative to forecasts prior to the policy shifts, the US economy is expected to slow more sharply in 2025 than was projected a year ago. Meanwhile, inflation is expected to remain largely unchanged and elevated, compared with the notable decline projected in October 2024.

This combination of a sharper growth slowdown and a slower pace in disinflation in the United States contrasts with the less sharp growth slowdown and muted inflation in China. Elsewhere, in most cases, a pickup in growth is no longer expected or is projected to be much weaker, while inflation is still expected to decline at about the same pace as before. This is broadly in line with what would be anticipated from the introduction of higher US tariffs, with small deviations in the inflation outlook attributable to idiosyncratic offsetting factors.

World trade is expected to decline modestly over the five-year forecast horizon. Compared with the April 2025 WEO, world trade volume is expected to grow faster in 2025 but more slowly in 2026. This reflects the front-loading patterns observed. Trade volume growth at an average rate of 2.9 percent in 2025–26, even with the temporary boost from front-loading in 2025, is lower than projected in the October 2024 WEO, which envisioned an average growth rate of 3.3 percent.

Global current account imbalances in 2025 are expected to exceed those in the October 2024 WEO and to narrow thereafter. Among the three largest contributors to the overall balance (China, Germany, United States), pre-emptive trade ahead of prospective tariffs widens the US deficit and the surplus for China, before unwinding as pull-forward behavior dissipates.

Changes in GDP Growth and Inflation (Percentage points)

Note: AEs = advanced economies; EMDEs = emerging market and developing economies; WEO = World Economic Outlook.

Projected Change in Current Account Balance (Percentage points)

Source: IMF staff calculations.

Note: Each data point shows difference from previous year of current account balance in percent of GDP series in respective WEOs. WEO = World Economic Outlook.

The narrowing of global imbalances works through three main channels. The first is trade policy shifts. In the United States, the rise in import costs and greater uncertainty dampen investment, softening import demand. At the same time, tariffs on intermediate inputs act as a tax on US manufacturers, raising production costs for exports of final products and US products that compete against imports—leaving the net effects on the current account ambiguous.

Further, even as higher tariff receipts are likely to lift public savings, decreasing private savings are likely to offset this increase. Overall, the impact on the current account of this channel is likely to be limited, consistent with both model-based and empirical analysis (2025 External Sector Report).

Second, exchange rate movements are an additional channel of external adjustment. Higher unilateral tariffs would normally be associated with a stronger currency for the tariffing country, helping with the absorption of the tariff shock. The recent depreciation of the US dollar, instead, enhances export price competitiveness and restrains import-intensive consumption possibly helping to narrow US external deficits.

A weaker dollar also tends to ease global financial conditions, providing some near-term global demand, but this is likely to be eroded by higher inflation in the United States relative to the rest of the world and the associated adjustment in the real effective exchange rate. Last but not least, fiscal changes have accompanied trade developments. China and Germany have recently announced and expanded spending measures to boost domestic demand, which will lower net savings and reduce external surpluses. In the United States, the OBBBA is expected to widen the fiscal deficit over the medium term relative to projections in previous WEO reports, despite back-loaded spending cuts and sizable tariff receipts. This weighs on public saving and so tends to widen the current account deficit—or at least temper any narrowing from other channels.

Trade Reallocation in Response to Tariffs: Will This Time Be Different?

The shift in US trade policy in 2025 differs notably from the changes during 2018–19. For instance, whereas the previous round of tariff increases was directed primarily at a single trading partner—China—the current period is characterized by broader-based tariff hikes affecting a wider range of countries, alongside a marked rise in trade policy uncertainty. This raises an important question: Has the distinct nature of the 2025 tariff shock led to different patterns of adjustment in bilateral trade between the United States and China, both with each other and with third-party countries, relative to the aftermath of 2018–19 tariff hikes? This box sheds some preliminary light on this question based on bilateral monthly trade flow data.

There is ample evidence of changes in international trade, foreign direct investment, and global value chains in response to the tariff increases of 2018–19 and the rise in trade tensions (see, for example, Fajgelbaum and others 2024; Freund and others 2024; Gopinath and others 2025; Graziano and others 2024). The bilateral US-China decoupling was accompanied by increased trade and investment ties with third countries. China's exports to the United States fell by about 6 percent within two years. This was accompanied by a steady increase in exports to China's substitutes (based on the degree of substitutability between that country's products and Chinese varieties) and less of an increase in China's complements.

Preliminary trade data for 2025 (marked in dashed lines) reveal early signs of further decoupling between the United States and China, both with each other and with third-party countries, relative to the aftermath of 2018–19 tariff hikes? This box sheds some preliminary light on this question based on bilateral monthly trade flow data.

Exports by Destination Country Type and Tariff Episode

reveals some of the underlying differences between the two tariff episodes so far. In 2018–19, Asian and USMCA (U.S.-Mexico-Canada Agreement) countries—many of which fall into the China’s substitutes category—absorbed China’s falling exports to the United States. Meanwhile, falling US exports to China were accompanied by increases in other destinations, such as the European Union, together with stable exports to Canada and Mexico.

Change in China’s Exports by Destination Region and Tariff Episode in Selected Sectors (Billions of US dollars)

Sources: Trade Data Monitor; and IMF staff calculations.

Early signals from the latest trade data point to potentially faster trade shifts this time. For example, Chinese exports to third-country markets—especially in Asia and Europe—increased more in February–April 2025 than in February–April 2018. At the same time, Canada and Mexico have accounted for a small share of China’s change in exports since February 2025 and have made a negative contribution to US export growth, in contrast to 2018–19. High tariffs on non-USMCA-compliant products and on steel and aluminum content on a value-added basis, combined with further tightening and enforcement of rules of origin, may be partially responsible, along with other factors.

It is too soon to assess the magnitude of a longer-term reallocation—which in 2018–19 picked up speed only after about 12 months. The extent of shifts may be different this time because threats of higher tariffs on exports to the United States have affected most countries since January 2025—unlike the China-specific changes to the US trade policy in the 2018 episode—and overall policy uncertainty is high, complicating firms’ reallocation decisions. In addition, further actions are being taken to reduce reallocation, including tighter rules of origin, customs enforcement of transshipment, duties applied on value-added content, and extended screening procedures for foreign direct investment.

Such shifts observed in gross trade data can also be induced by other factors, many of which are unrelated to trade policy, including broader changes in the countries’ competitiveness. At the aggregate level, the observed increase in Chinese exports to third countries is also not necessarily for the same products whose exports to the United States dropped. In addition, movements in exchange rates and relative prices may affect the degree of reallocation in real terms. This preliminary analysis is, hence, illustrative, and will require further analysis to isolate the role of different factors once sufficient data become available. The pace and geography of reallocation will also depend on frictions, including policy choices by third countries.

Model simulations of long-term reallocation (Rotunno and Ruta 2025) suggest that, once uncertainty is resolved, China’s exports to non-US markets could increase by 4–6 percent in the baseline, with the extent and direction of diversion depending crucially on the distribution of tariffs and third-country policies.

While similar caveats apply to trends observed at the sectoral level, early evidence suggests that trade flows are already being redirected to Asia in several important sectors targeted by tariff increases, including automobiles and parts, and to Europe in steel and aluminium. In addition, there is some evidence that changes in third countries' imports from China in a given sector, including to Asia, are correlated with the change in their exports in the same sector to other regions, including the United States and Europe.

This may suggest that trade diversion to other markets is larger than what is captured in gross trade data and could be consistent with either trade reallocation, trade rerouting, or a combination of the two.

India's economic momentum remains strong, underpinned by resilient domestic demand and sustained macroeconomic stability. In FY 2025–26, Real GDP (GDP at Constant Prices) is estimated to reach Rs. 201.90 lakh crore (US$ 2.24 trillion), rising from the provisional level of Rs. 187.97 lakh crore (US$ 2.26 trillion) in FY 2024–25, reflecting a robust growth of 7.4%. At current prices, Nominal GDP is projected to reach Rs. 357.14 lakh crore (US$ 3.96 trillion) in FY 2025–26, from Rs. 330.68 lakh crore (US$ 3.98 trillion) in the previous year, registering a growth of 8.0%.

On the production side, Real Gross Value Added (GVA) is estimated at Rs. 184.50 lakh crore (US$ 2.04 trillion), up from Rs. 171.87 lakh crore (US$ 2.07 trillion) in FY 2024–25, indicating a growth of 7.3%, while Nominal GVA is expected to expand to Rs. 323.48 lakh crore (US$ 3.59 trillion) from Rs. 300.22 lakh crore (US$ 3.62 trillion), marking a growth of 7.7%. Collectively, these trends highlight India's position as one of the fastest-growing major economies, supported by broad-based expansion across sectors.

Further, India is projected to reach a GDP of Rs. 4,26,45,000 crore (US$ 5 trillion) by 2027 and is on course to surpass Germany by 2028. Rising employment and increasing private consumption, supported by rising consumer sentiment, will support GDP growth in the coming months.

India is home to 126 unicorns, with six new startups achieving unicorn status in 2025. India's current account deficit moderated in Q2 FY 2025–26 (July–September), supported by a lower merchandise trade deficit. The deficit stood at Rs. 1.02 lakh crore (US$ 11.7 billion), or 1.3% of GDP, compared with Rs. 1.73 lakh crore (US$ 20.8 billion), or 2.2% of GDP, in the same quarter last year.

In the preceding quarter, the current account had recorded a relatively modest deficit of Rs. 0.20 lakh crore (US$ 2.33 billion), equivalent to 0.2% of GDP, indicating improved external sector resilience. According to Minister of Commerce and Industry, Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution and Textiles Mr. Piyush Goyal, Indian exports are expected to reach US$ 1 trillion by 2030.

Recent Developments

India is primarily a domestic demand-driven economy, with consumption and investments contributing to 70% of the economic activity. With India's economy showing resilient growth, supported by strong domestic demand, policy reforms, and a healthy investment pipeline, several new projects and developments are underway across key sectors. According to World Bank, India must continue to prioritise lowering inequality while also putting growth-oriented policies into place to boost the economy. In view of this, there have been some developments that have taken place in the recent past. Some of them are mentioned below.

- On the FDI front, according to the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), India's cumulative FDI inflow stood at Rs. 99,08,749 crore (US$ 1.12 trillion) between April 2000-September 2025; with major share of FDI equity inflow, coming from Singapore at Rs. 13,21,127 crore (US$ 186.82 billion) with a total share of 24.45%, followed by Mauritius at Rs. 11,22,807 crore (US$ 183.66 billion) with 24.04%, the USA at Rs. 5,50,450 crore (US$ 77.27 billion) with 10.11%, the Netherlands at Rs. 3,77,094 crore (US$ 54.93 billion) with 7.19%, and Japan at Rs. 2,93,863 crore (US$ 45.61 billion) with 5.97%.
- As of January 9, 2026, India's foreign exchange reserves stood at Rs. 61,95,896 crore (US$ 687.19 billion).
- In November 2025, India recorded 113 Private Equity (PE)–Venture Capital (VC) deals valued at Rs. 46,500 crore (US$ 5.6 billion), marking a 31% year-on-year increase from Rs. 35,700 crore (US$ 4.3 billion) in November 2024. On a month-on-month basis, investment value rose by 4% compared to Rs. 44,800 crore (US$ 5.4 billion) in October 2025. Deal activity also strengthened, with the number of transactions increasing 12% year-on-year from 101 deals in November 2024 and 4% month-on-month from 109 deals in October 2025, reflecting sustained momentum in India's PE/VC investment landscape.
- During FY 2025–26 (up to January 27, 2026), Foreign Portfolio Investor (FPI) activity in India indicated a phase of portfolio optimisation and asset reallocation amid evolving global market conditions. While foreign investors moderated direct equity exposure, debt instruments continued to attract investments of over Rs. 2,100 crore (US$ 0.25 billion), supported by stable macroeconomic fundamentals and policy continuity. FPIs also channelled Rs. 17,025 crore (US$ 2.0 billion) into mutual fund schemes, reflecting a preference for diversified and professionally managed market exposure. Domestic Institutional Investors (DIIs) played a stabilising role in the equity cash market during FY 2025–26 (April–December 2025), recording net purchases of around Rs. 5.99 lakh crore (US$ 66.55 billion). Strong and consistent buying by mutual funds, insurance companies, and pension funds helped offset periods of foreign portfolio moderation.
- India's manufacturing sector continued to expand in December, with the seasonally adjusted HSBC India Manufacturing Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) remaining firmly in expansionary territory at 55.0, despite easing from 56.6 in November. Importantly, the index stayed above its long-run average, indicating sustained improvement in overall sector health. New orders continued to rise at a strong pace, supported by steady domestic demand, while output growth, although moderating, reflected ongoing capacity utilisation.
- India's consumer price inflation remained subdued and well-anchored in December 2025, reflecting a stable price environment across the economy. Headline inflation, based on the All-India Consumer Price Index (CPI), stood at 1.33% year-on-year, indicating continued moderation in price pressures. The marginal month-on-month uptick of 62 basis points from November 2025 reflects normal seasonal movements, while overall inflation remained comfortably low, underscoring effective supply management and macroeconomic stability.
- India's GST collections continued to demonstrate underlying revenue resilience, supported by steady economic activity and compliance levels. Total Net GST revenue in December 2025 stood at Rs. 1.45 lakh crore (US$ 16.17 billion), reflecting normal month-on-month variation. On a cumulative basis, net yearly GST collections in December 2025 reached Rs. 14.25 lakh crore (US$ 163.59 billion), registering a year-on-year growth of 6.8%, underscoring sustained consumption momentum and the strengthening tax base.
- Passengers carried by domestic airlines during January-November 2025 were 1526.35 lakhs as against 1464.02 lakhs during the corresponding period of the previous year, thereby registering an annual growth of 4.26% and a monthly growth of 6.92%.
- The government is focusing on renewable energy sources and has achieved a major clean energy milestone by generating 50% of its power from renewable sources, five years ahead of its 2030 target. India is committed to achieving the country's ambition of Net Zero Emissions by 2070 through a five-pronged strategy, 'Panchamrit'. Moreover, India ranked 3rd in the renewable energy country attractive index.
- India secured 38th position out of 139 economies in the Global Innovation Index 2025. India rose from 81st position in 2015 to 38th position in 2024. India ranks in 3rd position in the global number of scientific publications.
- India's industrial activity witnessed a strong rebound in November 2025, with the Index of Industrial Production (IIP) growing by 6.7%, a sharp improvement from 0.4% in October 2025, indicating accelerating industrial momentum. The manufacturing sector led this expansion with a robust 8.0% growth, supported by positive performance across 20 out of 23 industry groups at the NIC two-digit level, reflecting a broad-based recovery. Key growth drivers included basic metals (10.2%), pharmaceuticals and medicinal products (10.5%), and motor vehicles and trailers (11.9%), highlighting strength in core, healthcare, and mobility-related industries. Overall, the IIP index rose to 158.0, up from 148.1 in November 2024, underscoring sustained expansion in India's industrial base.

- The government has set a calibrated wheat procurement target of 30 million tonnes for the 2025–26 rabi marketing season, ensuring efficient stock management and smooth market operations. This comes even as wheat production is projected at a record 115 million tonnes in 2024–25, reflecting strong output prospects. To support farmers, the MSP for wheat has been fixed at Rs. 2,425 per quintal, with procurement to be undertaken by FCI and state agencies to meet food security and welfare requirements.

Government Initiatives

Over the years, the Indian government has introduced many initiatives to strengthen the nation's economy. The Indian government has been effective in developing policies and programmes that are not only beneficial for citizens to improve their financial stability but also for the overall growth of the economy. Over recent decades, India's rapid economic growth has led to a substantial increase in its demand for exports. Besides this, a number of the government's flagship programmes, including Make in India, Start-up India, Digital India, the Smart City Mission, and the Atal Mission for Rejuvenation and Urban Transformation, are aimed at creating immense opportunities in India. In this regard, some of the initiatives taken by the government to improve the economic condition of the country are mentioned below:

- Under the Startup India initiative, the Government continues to strengthen the start-up ecosystem through targeted funding, seed support, and credit guarantees. As of October 2025, women-led start-ups received investments and financial support of over Rs. 3,157 crore (US$ 0.38 billion) through the Fund of Funds for Startups, Startup India Seed Fund Scheme, and Credit Guarantee Scheme, reinforcing inclusive entrepreneurship and early-stage innovation across sectors.
- The Ministry of Labour & Employment signed an MoU with Zomato on October 14, 2025, to enhance employment opportunities through the National Career Service (NCS) portal. Under the agreement, Zomato will list around 2.5 lakh job opportunities annually, supporting the growth of the gig economy and promoting formal, technology-enabled livelihoods across India.
- The Production Linked Incentive (PLI) programme has significantly strengthened India's manufacturing base and export capabilities across priority sectors. As of September 2025, realised investments under PLI schemes stood at Rs. 2,00,000 crore (US$ 24.2 billion) across 14 sectors, leading to incremental production and sales exceeding Rs. 18,70,000 crore (US$ 226.5 billion) and generating over 12.6 lakh jobs (direct and indirect).
- In August 2025, Prime Minister Mr. Narendra Modi launched two major agriculture schemes worth Rs. 35,440 crore (US$ 4 billion), the PM Dhan-Dhaanya Krishi Yojana and the Mission for Aatmanirbharta in Pulses, aimed at boosting self-reliance, productivity, and farmers' income. He also inaugurated and laid foundation stones for projects worth over Rs. 6,200 crore (US$ 709 million) across agriculture, animal husbandry, fisheries, and food processing sectors.
- On July 5, 2025, the Union Cabinet approved the Rs. 1,00,000 crore (US$ 11.72 billion) Research, Development and Innovation (RDI) Scheme, launching long-term, low- or zero-interest funding via a special purpose fund under the ANRF to jump-start India's R&D ecosystem and support deep-tech and startup innovation.

AUTOMOTIVE INDUSTRY

Overview of Global Automotive Market

The automotive market size reached USD 2.75 trillion in 2025 and is projected to hit USD 3.26 trillion by 2030, advancing at a 3.46% CAGR during the forecast period. Tightening emissions rules, rapid battery-cost deflation, and digitally enabled cockpit upgrades are steering demand toward electrified and connected vehicles.

Automakers are accelerating platform consolidation to fund software and power-electronics roadmaps, while tier-1 suppliers expand vertically to secure semiconductors and critical-mineral feedstocks. Investor capital is tilting toward battery plants, silicon carbide fabrication, and advanced driver-assistance software, signaling confidence in long-run electrification payoffs. Meanwhile, capacity constraints in chips and cathode materials temper near-term production volumes yet reinforce pricing power for suppliers positioned at the top of the value chain.

Industry Market Trends and Drivers

✓ Rapid Electrification Momentum

Global electric-vehicle sales were almost 14 million units in 2023, a 35% leap over 2022, and China supplied 60% of volume. Fleet managers report under-three-year payback for light commercial EVs running fixed urban routes, accelerating purchase pipelines for courier, postal, and grocery segments. Capital markets favor pure-play EV firms, lowering the weighted-average cost of capital by 250 basis points relative to legacy peers. Incumbent brands redirect power-train budgets from combustion optimization to silicon-power modules, while cell manufacturers lock in offtake agreements that extend beyond 2030.

These dynamics hard-wire an irreversible tilt toward electrification within the automotive market, compelling suppliers of anodes, cathode-active materials, and drive inverters to expand capacity aggressively.

✓ Urban Air-Quality Legislation

Euro 7 tailpipe standards starting 2025 raise compliance cost per ICE vehicle by USD 1,400–1,900, closing the sticker-price gap against entry-level EVs. China’s National VI and India’s BS-VI frameworks impose parallel thresholds, while California mandates 100% zero-emission new-vehicle sales by 2035. Most global cities will implement zero-emission zones by 2027, restricting ICE access across core downtown districts. Municipal congestion-pricing pilots in London, Singapore, and Stockholm now offer discount tariffs for zero-emission plates, accelerating fleet rotation among ride-hail drivers.

Regulators increasingly coordinate battery-recycling quotas with emissions policies, creating defensive moats for OEMs with end-of-life supply-chain integration. As regulations converge, the automotive market realigns capital expenditure toward battery, power electronics, and charging infrastructure, intensifying the strategic importance of clean propulsion.

✓ Digital Cockpit and Connected-Car Demand

Semiconductor content per vehicle rose as artificial-intelligence voice assistants, augmented-reality head-up displays, and over-the-air upgrade pathways became mainstream. Automakers are launching software subscription bundles priced at USD 10–25 monthly, delivering incremental margins exceeding 40%, well above hardware averages. Digital cockpit ecosystems also feed anonymized telematics into predictive-maintenance algorithms, lowering warranty costs and enhancing customer retention.

The revenue mix shift toward recurring software flows anchors higher lifetime value per vehicle, a vital cushion against shrinking ICE parts profit pools. These factors amplify unit economics for technology-forward models, lifting overall pricing power within the automotive market.

✓ Supply-Chain On-Shoring Initiatives

The United States CHIPS and Science Act allocated fabrication incentives, prompting Intel, TSMC, and Samsung to add 300 mm lines aimed at automotive-grade microcontrollers. Volkswagen's Tennessee battery facility targets 40 GWh capacity by 2025, which is enough cells for 500,000 midsize EVs each year.

On-shoring curbs logistics exposure to the Red Sea and Taiwan Strait chokepoints, trimming lead times by two weeks and reducing working capital needs. Localized raw-material processing also satisfies rising environmental, social, and governance disclosure requirements from institutional investors. While multi-year build-out lags near-term demand, the strategy enhances long-run cost certainty and resilience for the automotive market.

Restraints Impact Analysis

✓ Critical-Mineral Supply Bottlenecks

In 2024, lithium spot prices fluctuated, driven by persistent supply shortages and speculative stockpiling. The Democratic Republic of Congo's dominance in cobalt supply leaves OEMs vulnerable to sociopolitical upheavals and heightened ESG scrutiny. Environmental pushback in Indonesia and the Philippines is delaying nickel projects, extending payback periods, and driving up capital expenses.

Automakers are turning to vertical integration to mitigate risks, as seen with Tesla's stake in a lithium refinery in Texas. However, it typically takes seven years for new supplies to transition from discovery to production. These challenges constrain the immediate rollout of electric vehicles (EVs), tempering growth in the broader automotive market.

✓ Semiconductor Shortage Cyclicalities

Taiwan, South Korea, and mainland China dominate the global supply of automotive-grade chips, posing a risk of disruption to vehicle assembly lines. The industry's reliance on just-in-time production faces challenges with fabrication lead times stretching from 12 to 26 weeks, resulting in occasional line stoppages. During capacity constraints, foundries tend to favor contracts from the higher-margin smartphone and data-center sectors, sidelining automakers in the allocation process.

In response, original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) are now maintaining a buffer inventory equivalent to eight weeks of production and entering into long-term take-or-pay wafer contracts, heightening their working-capital demands. Until more diversified fabrication facilities become operational, the automotive market will grapple with the repercussions of chip supply volatility on its growth trajectory.

Segment Analysis

• By Vehicle Type:

Passenger-Car Scale Meets Two-Wheeler Agility

Passenger cars generated 72.45 % of the automotive market revenue in 2024 within the automotive market size, underscoring their role as the default mobility in most regions. High saturation in Western economies tempers unit growth, yet rising middle-class purchasing power in Southeast Asia and Africa keeps the segment expanding modestly. Two-wheelers, despite lower ticket sizes, grow at a 4.24% CAGR thanks to densely populated Asian metros that value manoeuvrability and low running costs.

Consumer aspirations for personal mobility remain sticky, yet multi-modal transport ecosystems introduce competition from ride-hail, micro-mobility, and mass-transit upgrades. Delivery apps shift fleet mix toward cargo motorcycles, enhancing two-wheeler replacement cycles. Off-highway machinery anchors component supplier revenue with 6-year average replacement timelines. ICE dominance in heavy machinery persists because duty-cycle torque demands exceed current battery-energy densities. Over the forecast horizon, vehicle-type diversification sustains overall automotive market resilience.

- By Propulsion Type:

ICE Dominance Faces Electric Disruption

Internal combustion units retained 85.13% revenue share in 2024 across the automotive market size, reflecting a century of installed refuelling infrastructure and cost amortization. Still, electric vehicles secure the fastest 6.85% CAGR on compelling total-cost-of-ownership economics and mounting policy mandates. Hybrids function as transitional technology, particularly in Japan and North America, where charge-point density lags urban demand. Fuel-cell electric vehicles stay niche amid hydrogen supply hurdles, yet pilots in heavy-duty freight suggest an opportunity for long-haul decarbonization.

Relative growth rates show EV penetration doubling between the 2019–2024 and 2025–2030 horizons as battery-cost curves steepen further. This swing reroutes supplier capital into permanent-magnet motors and wide-bandgap semiconductors, straining legacy gearbox and exhaust-system volumes.

- By Application:

Personal Use Dominates While Public Transport Accelerates

Personal-use vehicles accounted for a 63.26% share of the automotive market in 2024, mirroring cultural affinity for private transport in the United States, Germany, and Australia. Consumer teleworking reduced weekday commuting yet preserved weekend leisure travel, sustaining mileage per unit. Public-transport fleets post the highest 5.11% CAGR as municipalities electrify bus corridors to meet carbon-budget targets.

Commercial applications grow on surging direct-to-consumer logistics, with grocery and pharmacy chains dedicating fleet budgets to temperature-controlled vans. Industrial deployments such as mining haul trucks and agricultural tractors integrate hybrid drivelines where regenerative braking offsets high load factors. ISO 14001 adoption prompts corporate fleets to embed life-cycle emissions scoring into procurement, nudging demand toward battery-electric forklifts for warehouse operations. These diversified applications shield the automotive market from single-sector downturns.

- By Ownership Model:

Individual Holds Sway Amid Subscription Momentum

Individual possession maintained a 77.35% share of the automotive market in 2024, underscoring emotional attachments to ownership and the convenience of uncompromised availability. Suburban households prioritize utility for grocery runs and school trips, buffering demand against ride-hail substitution. Subscription services clock a 5.84% CAGR through 2030, accelerated by metro parking costs and remote-work flexibility.

Fleet ownership gains as parcel-delivery and municipal entities bulk-invest in electric vans that meet urban-access compliance and ESG disclosures. Shared mobility flattens due to pandemic-driven hygiene concerns but rebounds in 2024 on contactless payment and improved sanitization protocols. The ownership mosaic fragments conventional dealership profit pools and forces OEMs to build internal leasing entities to retain downstream revenue. These shifts require digital platforms for vehicle condition telemetry and predictive maintenance, embedding recurring software fees into the automotive market.

- By Sales Channel:

OEM Dealers Lead While Digital Gains Traction

OEM-affiliated showrooms captured 68.14% share of the automotive market in 2024, rooted in warranty servicing and financing brokerage that secures loyalty across the automotive market. Online platforms post a 4.79% CAGR as digital natives expect frictionless price transparency and doorstep delivery. Tesla's direct-to-consumer blueprint validates margin scaling without franchise fees, prodding legacy OEMs to pilot factory-order portals with 10-day delivery promises.

Independent dealers focus on used vehicles and lower-credit buyers where underwriting expertise trumps brand power. Regulatory constraints in many United States regions still require point-of-sale dealer involvement, shaping hybrid click-and-collect models that merge e-commerce storefronts with local fulfilment centers. Meanwhile, emerging markets leverage WhatsApp commerce and QR-code payments for micro-dealer networks that reach peri-urban customers. The sales-channel evolution redistributes bargaining leverage across the automotive market, compelling cohesive omnichannel strategies.

Geography Analysis

Asia-Pacific retained 53.11% share of the automotive market in 2024, and is advancing at a 3.85% CAGR through 2030 as China deepens EV leadership, India scales compact-car volumes, and Southeast Asia urbanizes rapidly. India's production-linked incentive scheme enhanced capex, catalysing significant incremental jobs and widening small-car affordability. Japanese and South Korean automakers propel regional export surpluses yet face aging domestic demographics that cap home-market unit growth.

North America rebounded in light-vehicle sales in 2024 after chip shortages eased, supported by pent-up fleet replacement and federal EV tax credits that trim USD 7,500 from purchase prices. California's mandate for 100% zero-emission sales by 2035 nudges OEM portfolio realignment, while Canada's ZEV standard sets a 20% minimum share by 2026. The United States added public fast chargers, narrowing range-anxiety barriers. Europe contends with energy-price volatility yet advances electrification through Euro 7 limits and congestion-pricing rebates.

South America, the Middle East, and Africa contribute comparatively lower global shares but register outsized potential as income levels climb and infrastructure matures. Brazil produced 2.5 million vehicles in 2024 under a flexible-fuel framework, while Mexico exported 3.6 million units to North America, leveraging USMCA rules of origin. Gulf Cooperation Council states accelerate EV imports backed by carbon-neutral tourism pledges, installing more chargers across the United Arab Emirates by 2025.

Africa witnesses modest yet rising assembly activity, buoyed by the African Continental Free Trade Agreement and localized CKD operations in Kenya, Nigeria, and Ghana. Infrastructure deficits and price sensitivity temper volume, but demographic tailwinds secure long-term relevance for the automotive market.

Competitive Landscape

The automotive market exhibits moderate concentration, as disruptive entrants erode incumbent moats. Toyota, Volkswagen, and General Motors remain volume leaders, but Chinese contenders BYD, Geely, and SAIC unlock global share by exporting small crossovers with sub-USD 25,000 sticker prices. Software alliances flourish as Hyundai pairs with NVIDIA for Level-3 driving stacks, and Ford licenses Tesla Supercharger access, dissolving proprietary barriers.

Battery manufacturers CATL and LG Energy Solution deepen co-location footprints with OEMs, locking in 10-year supply deals that hedge raw-material volatility.

Competitive advantage migrates toward software cadence, cell-chemistry optionality, and circular-economy loops. Market newcomers leverage over-the-air update infrastructure to widen functional spread post-purchase, generating lifetime revenue beyond sticker price. Incumbents counter by spinning off EV sub-brands that inherit agile development norms yet exploit global manufacturing scale.

Private-label battery-swap services and in-car e-commerce stores broaden after-sales monetization. The net effect is a dynamic landscape where balance-sheet heft intersects with digital prowess to define winners across the automotive market.

Overview of Indian Automotive Market

The Indian automobile industry has long been a reliable barometer of economic performance, given its critical role in both macroeconomic expansion and technological advancement. Within the sector, the two-wheeler segment dominates in terms of volume, driven by a growing middle class, a predominantly young population, and rising demand from rural markets. Demand for commercial vehicles has also strengthened, supported by the expansion of logistics and passenger transportation services. Market growth is expected to be shaped by emerging trends such as vehicle electrification, particularly in three-wheelers and small passenger cars.

India has also established itself as a prominent auto exporter with strong growth prospects in the near future. Automobile exports rose 19% in FY25 to over 5.3 million units, led by robust demand for passenger vehicles, two-wheelers, and commercial vehicles in global markets. Complementing this momentum, government initiatives such as the Automotive Mission Plan 2026, the scrappage policy, and the production-linked incentive (PLI) scheme are expected to position India as a global leader in both the two-wheeler and four-wheeler markets.

Market Size

India enjoys a strong position in the global heavy vehicles market as the largest tractor producer, second-largest bus manufacturer, and third-largest heavy truck manufacturer in the world. The total production of Passenger Vehicles*, Three Wheelers, Two Wheelers, and Quadricycle in October 2025 was ~2.8 million units. Two-wheelers and passenger vehicles dominate the domestic Indian auto market. Two-wheelers and passenger cars accounted for 77.87% and 15.60% of market shares, respectively. In FY26 (April-September 2025) Passenger car sales are dominated by small and mid-sized cars.

The electric vehicle (EV) market in India is emerging as a significant growth driver. India achieved a milestone with the sale of 1,00,000 EVs in CY24, up from 82,688 units in CY23. A study by CEEW Centre for Energy Finance identified a US$ 206 billion opportunity in the Indian EV sector by 2030, requiring an estimated US$ 180 billion investment in vehicle manufacturing and charging infrastructure.

Supporting this outlook, NITI Aayog and the Rocky Mountain Institute (RMI) project India's EV finance industry to reach US$ 50 billion (Rs. 3.7 lakh crore) by 2030.

Investments

To keep up with the growing demand, several auto makers have started investing heavily in various segments of the industry during the last few months. The electric vehicles industry in India is likely to touch Rs. 20,00,000 crore (US$ 234 billion) and will create around five crore jobs by 2030.

Government Initiatives

The Government of India encourages foreign investment in the automobile sector and has allowed 100% FDI under the automatic route. Some of the recent initiatives taken by the Government of India are:

- On August 26, 2025, India's EV push included 14,028 e-buses, 9,332 public charging stations, and over Rs. 54,000 crore (US$ 6.32 billion) in investments through PM E-DRIVE and PLI schemes to boost domestic manufacturing and green mobility.
- PM E-DRIVE, started in October 2024, is India's umbrella scheme to accelerate EV adoption and ecosystem support with a Rs. 10,900 crore (US$ 1.31 billion) outlay, encompassing e-2Ws, e-3Ws, e-buses, heavy EVs, public charging infrastructure, vehicle testing, and localisation, with its tenure extended to March 31, 2028.

- The Ministry of Heavy Industries has launched FAME- III Scheme, with a budget of Rs. 10,900 crore (US$ 1.29 billion) to promote electric mobility and reduce reliance on fossil fuels over a two-year period from April 1, 2024, to March 31, 2026.
- Under Electric Mobility Promotion Scheme 2024 government aims to support 3,72,215 EVs including e-2W (3,33,387) and e-3W (38,828 including 13,590 rickshaws & e-carts and 25,238 e-3W in L5 category).

Road Ahead

The automobile industry in India benefits from factors such as the availability of skilled labour at low cost, robust R&D centres, and affordable steel production. It also provides significant investment opportunities and generates both direct and indirect employment for skilled and unskilled workers. The electric vehicle (EV) sector alone is projected to create five crore jobs by 2030, underscoring its potential as a major driver of employment and growth.

To support this expansion, the Ministry of Heavy Industries (MHI) has extended the tenure of the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme for Automobile and Auto Components by one year. The scheme now offers incentives on determined sales over five consecutive financial years from 2023-24 to 2027-28, with disbursements in the subsequent year. It has already proven highly successful, attracting proposed investments of US$ 8.1 billion (Rs. 67,690 crore) against the original target of US$ 5.1 billion (Rs. 42,500 crore), with US$ 1.6 billion (Rs. 13,037 crore) invested by December 31, 2023.

Looking ahead, the government is working to overhaul the country's transportation system by creating an integrated EV mobility ecosystem with a low carbon footprint and high passenger density, especially in urban areas. Its long-term strategy and policies are designed to accelerate EV adoption in line with growing customer demand for cleaner and more efficient transportation solutions. With these initiatives, India is also well positioned to become a global leader in shared mobility by 2030, opening new avenues for electric and autonomous vehicles.

AUTO COMPONENTS INDUSTRY

Overview of Indian Auto Components Industry

India has emerged as the fastest-growing economy in the world in recent years. Rising incomes, higher infrastructure spending, and supportive manufacturing incentives have together accelerated the automobile sector, making it a critical pillar of India's growth story. The two-wheeler segment, driven largely by the expanding middle class, continues to dominate the market, with sales reaching 19.6 million units in FY25. This surge in demand has also encouraged the expansion of original equipment and auto component manufacturers, helping India build strong expertise in this space and enhancing global demand for Indian vehicles and components.

The industry is now witnessing a shift towards electrification, though internal combustion engine (ICE) vehicles continue to dominate. In 2024, India produced 100,000 electric cars and 900,000 electric two-wheelers, alongside 20 million two-wheelers and 5 million cars powered by ICE technology. Supporting this growth, the auto component industry has become a vital segment of the economy, spanning large corporations to micro enterprises across manufacturing clusters nationwide. It accounted for 2.3% of India's GDP in FY25 and provided direct employment to over 1.5 million people, a figure expected to rise as the sector's GDP contribution reaches 5-7% by 2026. India's auto-component industry is poised to reach US$ 200 billion by 2030, supported by its cost competitiveness, skilled workforce, and growing domestic demand, according to a McKinsey report titled Shaping the future of India's auto component industry.

The Indian auto component industry recorded a turnover of Rs. 6,73,000 crore (US$ 78.74 billion) in FY25, registering a CAGR of 14% between FY20 and FY25. The sector is projected to achieve exports worth Rs. 8,54,700 crore (US$ 100 billion) by 2030, underscoring its global competitiveness. In FY25, exports stood at Rs. 1,95,726 crore (US$ 22.9 billion). North America remained the largest export destination with a 32% share, recording 8.4% growth, while Europe, with a 29.5% share, registered a 2.1% decline. Asia accounted for 26% of exports and witnessed robust growth of 15.1%. The key export items included drive transmission and steering, engine components, body and chassis parts, suspension systems, and braking components.

India's auto component exports are projected to reach US$ 70-100 billion by FY30, driven by rising demand for electric vehicle (EV) technologies and global supply chain diversification. Indian SMEs could capture US$ 20-30 billion of this opportunity by leveraging cost advantages and high-quality standards.

Market Size

India's auto components industry has significantly expanded its market share, driven by rising automobile demand from the growing middle class and strong global exports. The sector has attracted both Indian and international players and is broadly classified into organised and unorganised segments. While the unorganised sector primarily caters to the aftermarket with low-value items, the organised sector focuses on supplying high-value precision instruments to Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs).

India's automobile production further highlights the scale of demand that supports the component industry. In FY26 (April-September), domestic sales stood at 1,02,36,639 units for two-wheelers, 20,51,082 units for passenger vehicles, 4,63,502 units for commercial vehicles, and 3,94,450 units for three-wheelers. In FY26 (April-September), the total production of Passenger Vehicles, Commercial Vehicles, Three Wheelers, Two Wheelers and Quadricycle was 1,65,34,997 units.

Source: ACMA, Note: *- Until September 2025

In FY25, domestic OEM supplies accounted for about 54% of the industry's turnover, followed by the domestic aftermarket at around 10% and exports at 19%. Supplies to OEMs stood at Rs. 5,70,000 crore (US$ 66.69 billion), reflecting a 10% YoY growth, while the aftermarket segment was valued at Rs. 99,948 crore (US$ 11.6 billion), recording a 6% increase over FY24.

India's Automotive Mission Plan 2047 aims to boost vehicle production to 50 million by 2030 and 200 million by 2047, positioning India among the top two global auto producers. It prioritizes sustainable vehicle production with hydrogen, electric, CNG, and biogas, while not curbing petrol or diesel vehicles immediately.

Government Initiatives

The Government has reaffirmed its commitment towards EVs and its mission for 30% electric mobility by 2030. Budget announced customs duty exemption on the import of capital goods and machinery required for the manufacture of lithium-ion batteries that typically power EVs.

The Union Cabinet approved the Production Linked Incentive (PLI) Scheme for the Automobile and Auto Components sector on September 15, 2021, with a budgetary outlay of Rs. 25,938 crore (US$ 3.03 billion) from FY23 to FY27. The scheme is expected to attract fresh investments of over Rs. 42,500 crore (US$ 4.9 billion) during this period.

The Bharat New Car Assessment Program (BNCAP) will boost the auto component value chain by driving advanced manufacturing, fostering innovation, and promoting global standards.

The Government of India's Automotive Mission Plan (AMP) 2006-26 has been instrumental in ensuring growth for the sector. The Indian automobile industry is expected to achieve a turnover of US$ 300 billion by 2026 by expanding at a CAGR of 15% from its current revenue of US$ 74 billion.

Road Ahead

The rapidly globalising world is creating new opportunities for the transportation industry, particularly with the shift towards electric, electronic, and hybrid vehicles that are seen as more efficient, safe, and reliable. Over the next decade, this transition will open new verticals for auto component manufacturers, supported by strong government policy measures. The Indian government has already introduced production incentives and is investing heavily in electric vehicle (EV) infrastructure, including the exemption of customs duties on capital goods and machinery used for producing lithium-ion cells.

The EV ecosystem is expected to expand rapidly, with the number of charging stations projected to rise from 12,146 in February 2024 to 4 lakhs by 2026. This will enable the auto component industry to strengthen its capabilities in EV components manufacturing, positioning India as a global hub for clean mobility solutions. As global supply chains realign, India's automotive component trade is expected to expand 4-5% annually to reach US$ 80 billion by 2026.

At the same time, manufacturers are increasingly focusing on sustainable solutions, lightweight materials, and efficient production processes to meet the evolving needs of the automotive sector. The integration of digitalisation and data analytics is also becoming a priority to optimise operations and enhance product performance. Going forward, collaboration with automakers, continuous investment in research and development, and adaptation to changing regulations will be critical for the industry to stay competitive. With these shifts, the Indian auto component sector is set to play a pivotal role in shaping the future of mobility, reinforcing India's position as the world's third-largest automobile market by both value and volume.

India Automotive Lighting Market

The India Automotive Lighting Market size is estimated at USD 1.73 billion in 2025, and is expected to reach USD 2.31 billion by 2030, at a CAGR of 5.87% during the forecast period (2025-2030). Demand gains stem from safety regulation enforcement, electrification incentives, and rapid technology cycles that push manufacturers toward energy-efficient and adaptive systems. AIS-008 and AIS-012 rules accelerate LED fitment, while FAME-LI subsidies create an assured growth runway for two-wheeler and four-wheeler electrification. Domestic Tier-1 suppliers ramp capacity under Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes, benefitting from tariff walls that discourage imports of finished modules. Competitive intensity rises around matrix LED and emerging laser lighting platforms as OEMs seek differentiation through styling and advanced driver assistance integration. Volatility in semiconductor supply and a high GST bracket for premium lighting assemblies temper growth, but do not derail the segment's upward trajectory.

Drivers Impact Analysis

- LED Price Erosion and Energy-Efficiency Mandates

LED systems now cut power draw by up to four-fifths compared to halogen units, aligning with national efficiency targets while extending EV battery range. Matrix configurations featuring 24-pixel arrays are in local production, and 100-pixel variants are in pre-launch phases for premium trims. Manufacturers meet AIS-008 adaptive requirements and lower warranty costs because LEDs last more than 25,000 hours compared to 1,000 hours for halogen bulbs. The cost curve continues to decline as die sizes shrink and domestic packaging rises, strengthening the case for full-vehicle LED adoption.

- AIS-008 / AIS-012 Safety Regulations Enforcement

ARAI compliance audits intensified in 2024, with Gujarat traffic agencies confiscating non-compliant white LED kits. The standards lock in photometric thresholds that push halogen products out of higher-trim vehicles. OEMs adopt adaptive beam logic to address glare issues and ensure rule conformity. Certification regimes favor incumbent suppliers maintaining accredited test labs, raising entry barriers, and curbing counterfeit inflows.

- Electrification Push Under FAME-LI Boosting 2-W and 4-W LED Fitment

Electric vehicle penetration grew exponentially in 2024. The scheme's e-two-wheeler purchase incentives drive LED headlamp uptake because the technology minimizes range penalties. LED consumption falls three-fourths below halogen levels at constant luminance, a critical factor for scooters using 48 V systems. Government procurement targets many e-two-wheelers and e-three-wheelers through 2026, underpinning baseline demand.

- Tier-1 Localisation Incentives (PLI-Auto and Specs)

The massive PLI pool raises domestic content thresholds by rebating one-fifths of incremental sales value. Lumax expanded Pune and Nashik lines, while UNO Minda injected a considerable amount into the Farrukhnagar plant. Local driver-IC packaging and optical machining cut import reliance and shorten lead times. Suppliers secure technology transfers from Japanese and European partners as part of co-investment deals, deepening India's component value chain.

Restraints Impact Analysis

- High GST Slab and Import Duty on Advanced Lighting Modules

Combined indirect tax outgo can exceed half of CIF value for laser and OLED assemblies, inflating end-user prices and curbing premium trim mix. The duty barrier nudges multinational brands to localize optics and drivers, yet near-term cost spikes challenge OEM pricing strategies. PLI offsets mitigate part of the burden for plants that cross localization thresholds, but imported luxury models retain a spec advantage.

- LED-Driver Semiconductor Shortages

Global power-management IC lead times extend past 40 weeks, disrupting headlamp production planning. Tier-1s with dual-sourcing strategies from Taiwan and domestic fabs cushion shortages, whereas smaller suppliers face line stoppages. The government's semiconductor mission allocates a huge amount to wafer fabrication, but capacity will not arrive before late 2026.

Segment Analysis

- By Vehicle Type: Two-Wheeler Growth Outpaces Passenger Cars

Passenger cars retain a 47.14% of the Indian automotive lighting market share in 2024, yet growth is steadier at mid-single digits. OEMs in this segment focus on adaptive functions such as dynamic bending lights and animated turn indicators to differentiate trims. Two-wheelers post the segment's strongest 5.89% CAGR through 2030 as electric scooters proliferate in urban zones. In 2024, the Indian automotive lighting market size for two-wheelers continued its upward run on sustained EV subsidy support. Retrofit LED kits sell briskly in tier-2 showrooms, and OEMs specify integrated headlamps with signature DRL rings for brand recall.

The Indian automotive lighting market share held by passenger cars will likely ease as flexible electric scooters win first-time buyers. Nonetheless, rising premiumization ensures that passenger car lighting value per vehicle expands. Government fleet-electrification targets will push the demand for three-wheeler LED retrofits. Load carriers in the light commercial bracket move to modular LED assemblies that enable quick roadside lens swaps, keeping service uptime high. This cascading adoption balances growth across vehicle categories even as two-wheelers lead the CAGR league table.

- By Application: Exterior Lighting Maintains Dominance

Exterior applications commanded 63.21% of the Indian automotive lighting market share in 2024 and will grow at a 5.98% CAGR, buoyed by mandatory daytime running light rules and rising consumer style preferences. The lion's share comes from headlamps where matrix LED micro-controllers align beam spread with steering inputs, satisfying AIS-008 traceability mandates. The Indian automotive lighting market size for exterior units thus enjoys a structural tailwind tied to safety regulation cycles. Taillights shift to full-width LED bars that double as brand signatures, while fog lamps migrate to projector-type LEDs that integrate with cornering logic.

Interior lighting stays a lower-value niche but earns attention in premium trims that deploy multi-color ambient strips and OLED clusters on dashboards. OLED provides the thin form factor needed for wrap-around console designs, yet the cost keeps volumes modest. Roof modules deliver uniform brightness at lower current draw, a benefit for EV range management. Though interior volumes trail exterior, the segment acts as a test bed for differentiated cabin experiences, which could ripple into higher volume mid-spec models later in the decade.

- By Technology: Laser Lighting Finds a Foothold

LED remains the incumbent with a 57.18% of the Indian automotive lighting market share in 2024. Yet, laser lighting shows the quickest 5.93% CAGR as select luxury OEMs deploy the high-intensity technology on flagship trims. Laser diodes pass through phosphor plates to generate daylight-quality illumination up to 600 meters, a clear advantage on unlit highways. The Indian automotive lighting industry keeps Xenon/HID as a declining stop-gap in mid-priced vehicles, while halogen lingers mainly in entry two-wheelers due to upfront cost sensitivity.

Matrix LED upgrades drive the next performance leap, packing up to 32,000 micro-LEDs per headlamp in road-map designs. Suppliers integrate MEMS mirrors and on-board cameras to meet dynamic glare-avoidance standards. OLED lighting fills styling roles in taillamps with continuous ribbons that enable animated sequences for lock-unlock shows, reinforcing brand cues. Net technology shift favors solid-state solutions that align with electrification and autonomy megatrends.

- By Sales Channel: Aftermarket Momentum Accelerates

OEM contracts delivered 67.73% of the Indian automotive lighting market share in 2024, reflecting platform integration advantages and regulatory conformity. However, the aftermarket records a faster 5.95% CAGR on retrofit demand from owners upgrading halogen units to LED. The Indian automotive lighting market size within the aftermarket also benefits from growing e-commerce penetration, even though counterfeit rates run high. To combat fakes, leading brands deploy QR code authentication and tie up with organized retail chains for installation services.

OEMs court replacement business by offering extended warranties on Genuine Parts, a counter to grey-market alternatives. Vehicle parc aging above seven years in several states helps replacement volumes as owners face periodic inspection regimes that flag dim or non-standard lamps. The channel diversification safeguards supplier revenue streams, should OEM build schedules fluctuate.

Automotive Inside Rearview Mirrors Market

The automotive inside rearview mirrors market is expected to grow from USD 3.26 billion in 2025 to USD 3.45 billion in 2026 and is forecast to reach USD 4.56 billion by 2031 at 5.74% CAGR over 2026-2031. This growth is underpinned by rising vehicle safety requirements, integration of ADAS functions into the mirror module, and the steady recovery of global light-vehicle production.

Inside rearview mirrors have shifted from being a simple reflective surface to becoming a critical part of the in-cabin safety architecture. Inside mirrors now frequently host camera-based digital displays, auto-dimming functions, and integrated driver monitoring systems. These enhancements help reduce glare, support wider and clearer fields of view, and enable new safety features such as lane departure alerts, collision warnings, and occupant monitoring.

Regulatory momentum reinforces this transition. Safety agencies such as NHTSA and IIHS highlight blind-spot collisions and back-over accidents as key causes of injuries, prompting OEMs to adopt smarter mirrors and, in some cases, camera-based “digital rearview” solutions that supplement or replace traditional glass. Parallel trends in electrification and autonomous driving also support the market: EV platforms favor streamlined, lightweight, and aerodynamic mirror systems, while higher levels of automation require additional camera and sensor integration at or near the mirror.

Drivers Impact Analysis

- Stricter Safety & Rear-Visibility Regulations

Regulators worldwide continue to tighten rear visibility, blind-spot, and crash-avoidance requirements, which directly lifts demand for better-performing rearview mirrors. New car assessment programs and road-safety agencies increasingly link star ratings or compliance labels to visibility performance, glare reduction, and driver awareness systems. This pushes OEMs to upgrade mirrors from basic prismatic designs to units with wider fields of view, improved anti-glare functionality, and integrated warning indicators.

In parallel, commercial-vehicle rules for buses, coaches, and trucks mandate defined mirror coverage zones and, in some regions, supplementary camera systems. Even when cameras are added, a certified interior mirror or digital mirror display is usually still required, reinforcing the mirror module as a non-negotiable safety component. Because these regulations evolve slowly but ratchet upward, they create a long-term structural pull-on mirror content and quality across all major automotive regions.

- Adoption of ADAS & Smart Mirror Modules

Advanced driver-assistance systems (ADAS) are increasingly being routed through or displayed in the inside rear-view mirror module. Auto-dimming, blind-spot indicators, lane-departure alerts, and camera streaming from rear or surround-view systems are now frequently anchored in the mirror housing. This design choice centralizes critical information in the driver’s natural line of sight, without increasing dashboard clutter.

As more mass-market vehicles add ADAS bundles, the mirror becomes a logical integration node for sensors, cameras, and displays. Suppliers respond by offering smart mirror platforms with modular add-ons: electrochromic glass, embedded LEDs, microphones for voice assistants, and even driver-monitoring cameras. This trend turns the mirror from a low-margin commodity into a higher-value electronics hub, lifting average selling prices and deepening supplier–OEM partnerships.[2]

- Premium Vehicle Mix & Feature Upgrades in Mass Segments

Global sales are skewing toward SUVs, crossovers, and better-equipped trim levels, which typically specify more sophisticated interior mirrors. Higher rooflines, wider pillars, and thicker rear headrests in these body styles increase reliance on optimized mirrors or digital rearview systems to maintain adequate rear visibility. Premium brands have long used auto-dimming and frameless mirrors as differentiation points; now these features are steadily cascading into upper mid-range and even mainstream models.

At the same time, competitive pressure in volume segments pushes OEMs to bundle comfort and safety features, such as auto-dimming, integrated compass/temperature displays, or embedded garage-door openers, into mid-level trims. These feature upgrades occur even in markets with tight price sensitivity, as consumers increasingly expect “premium-like” cabins. The result is a gradual uplift in content per mirror across the global passenger-car parc, not just at the luxury end.

- Electrification & EV Interior Re-Architecture

Electric vehicles provide a catalyst for re-thinking cabin layouts and visibility solutions, and the rearview mirror benefits directly from this re-architecture. EV platforms often feature higher tailgates, thicker C-pillars, and distinct rear glazing for aerodynamic efficiency, all of which can compromise traditional rearward visibility and necessitate enhanced mirror or camera-mirror solutions. Digital mirrors that can switch between optical reflection and camera feed become especially attractive in EVs, where consumers are already primed for high-tech interiors.

Moreover, EVs frequently launch with advanced driver-monitoring and ADAS suites as standard or near-standard equipment. Locating cameras and infrared emitters in or around the inside mirror simplifies sensor placement and calibration while preserving dashboard design freedom. This tight integration means each incremental increase in EV penetration disproportionately expands demand for high-spec mirror modules compared with basic ICE vehicles. Over the long term, as EV share grows, this driver meaningfully boosts both volumes and value per unit in the inside rearview mirrors market.

Restraints Impact Analysis

- High Cost of Advanced Mirrors in Price-Sensitive Segments

Auto-dimming, camera-integrated, and sensor-rich mirrors significantly increase bill-of-materials cost versus traditional prismatic units. In mature markets, this is absorbed into higher trim prices, but in emerging economies, where entry-level cars and basic commercial vehicles dominate, OEMs face strong resistance to passing these costs to consumers. As a result, many models in India, Southeast Asia, Africa, and Latin America still ship with basic mirrors, and smart features are limited to premium variants or optional packs with low take-rates.

This cost barrier is especially acute when combined with rising electronics prices and currency volatility. Smaller OEMs and regional brands may delay upgrading mirror specifications to avoid margin erosion, even when regulations permit more advanced solutions. Consequently, the adoption curve for smart mirrors flattens in low- and mid-income markets, muting global growth that would otherwise be supported by safety and technology trends.

- Semiconductor & Electronics Supply Volatility

Advanced inside rear-view mirrors increasingly depend on semiconductors, image sensors, microcontrollers, and specialized driver ICs. Periodic shortages or price spikes in these components can delay production schedules, force design simplifications, or push OEMs to prioritize chip allocation toward higher-margin systems such as infotainment and powertrain control. Mirror programs, often seen as secondary electronics, can experience launch delays or temporary feature de-contenting when supply is tight.

Even when components are available, long lead times and sharp price movements complicate planning for tier-1 suppliers, who typically operate on fixed-price, multi-year contracts with automakers. This squeezes margins and discourages aggressive rollout of new smart-mirror platforms, particularly in volatile regions. In aggregate, supply-chain unpredictability subtly suppresses the effective CAGR of the inside rearview mirrors market by constraining how quickly advanced electronic features can be deployed at scale.

Segment Analysis

- By Vehicle Type: Passenger Cars Anchor Demand

Passenger cars dominate the automotive inside rearview mirrors market, with around 81.94% share in 2025. High global production volumes of hatchbacks, sedans, SUVs, and crossovers underpin this dominance, alongside increasingly stringent occupant-safety norms that make advanced interior mirrors standard or near-standard on many trims. Auto-dimming, integrated displays, and embedded sensors are now frequently specified in mid-range and premium passenger vehicles, lifting mirror content per vehicle. The rise of compact SUVs and crossovers with higher beltlines and rear head restraints has also increased reliance on optimized mirror designs and digital mirrors for rearward visibility.

Commercial vehicles form a smaller but strategically important segment, particularly for safety-critical applications. Trucks and buses require specialized inside mirrors, often paired with complex exterior mirror sets and camera systems to manage extended blind spots. Fleet operators and regulators push for enhanced rear visibility in school buses, coaches, and long-haul trucks, incentivizing OEMs to integrate digital rearview modules and driver monitoring into fleet-spec cabs. Over the forecast period, commercial vehicles are expected to grow steadily as governments tighten safety rules for professional drivers and as logistics and passenger transport fleets upgrade to more advanced mirror systems.

- By Powertrain Type: ICE Still Dominant, EVs Scale Rapidly

Vehicles with internal combustion engines (ICE) continue to represent roughly 84.92% of inside rearview mirror demand in 2025, reflecting the large global in-use fleet and ongoing ICE vehicle sales in emerging markets. Inside rearview mirror specifications for ICE vehicles are being upgraded as OEMs respond to new safety regulations and competitive benchmarks, adding auto-dimming, compass/temperature displays, and basic ADAS alerts into the mirror housing. This keeps the ICE segment structurally important for mirror suppliers even as EV growth accelerates.

The electric vehicle (EV) segment, though smaller today, is forecast to grow at an impressive 20.95% CAGR through 2031 in the inside rearview mirrors market. EV architectures often incorporate camera-based mirror systems and integrated driver monitoring as standard features, increasing the electronics and software content per mirror. As OEMs redesign cabins around large central displays and digital cockpits, the inside rearview mirror becomes a logical location for ADAS sensors, driver monitoring cameras, and streaming-video displays. This makes EVs an outsized driver of advanced mirror technology adoption, with premium electric models frequently debuting new digital mirror configurations that later trickle down into higher-volume ICE platforms.

- By Feature Type: Prismatic Mirrors Lead, Smart Features Take Off

Prismatic mirrors remain the workhorse of the industry, holding roughly 49.12% share of the automotive inside rearview mirrors market in 2025. Their relatively low cost, proven durability, and simple yet effective anti-glare performance keep them widely used in entry-level and mid-range vehicles across all regions. For many volume OEMs, prismatic mirrors provide a baseline safety function at minimal incremental cost, ensuring full compliance with visibility regulations even in cost-sensitive segments.

At the same time, blind-spot indicator mirrors form the fastest-growing feature cluster, with an expected growth rate of about 11.74% CAGR through 2031, supported by tighter crash-avoidance standards and growing consumer awareness of lane-change accidents. Auto-dimming mirrors and smart mirrors with integrated displays and cameras are gaining traction in premium and upper mid-range vehicles, where glare reduction, camera streaming, and on-glass graphics (compass, temperature, alerts) deliver clear perceived value. These advanced feature sets translate into higher ASPs for suppliers and encourage tier-1 manufacturers to invest in electrochromic materials, compact displays, and camera integration technologies that can eventually scale into higher-volume segments.

- By Sales Channel: OEM Fitment Dominates, Aftermarket Enables Upgrades

The OEM channel commands roughly 85.14% of global automotive inside rearview mirror revenues in 2025, and is also tracking the highest growth trajectory at around 6.06% through 2031. This dominance stems from the fact that rear-view mirrors are safety-critical components, tightly integrated into vehicle design, ADAS sensor placement, and homologation. Automakers increasingly specify customized mirror modules, including camera, sensor, and display integration, during vehicle development, locking in long-term supply agreements with major mirror manufacturers. As regulatory requirements evolve and ADAS penetration rises, OEMs continue to expand the scope of features built into factory-fitted mirrors, further reinforcing this channel's importance.

The aftermarket plays a complementary role, focusing on replacement mirrors for collision damage as well as technology upgrades for older vehicles. Owners of legacy vehicles increasingly retrofit auto-dimming mirrors, dash-cam integrated mirrors, and mirrors with built-in parking or reverse-camera displays. Aftermarket suppliers target regions with large, ageing vehicle fleets and less stringent homologation barriers, offering plug-and-play mirror upgrades through accessory channels and online platforms. While absolute growth is slower than in the OEM channel, the aftermarket remains significant due to persistent replacement demand and consumer interest in adding modern safety features without purchasing a new vehicle.

Competitive Landscape

The automotive inside rearview mirrors market is moderately consolidated, with a handful of global tier-1 suppliers capturing a large share of OEM contracts. These companies invest heavily in R&D to develop electrochromic (auto-dimming) mirrors, blind-spot indicator modules, camera-integrated digital mirrors, and driver monitoring solutions embedded in the mirror housing.

Strategic priorities focus on technology differentiation, manufacturing scale, and long-term OEM partnerships. Suppliers are expanding production footprints in Asia-Pacific, adopting advanced manufacturing practices (automation, digital twins, AI-enabled quality control), and pursuing joint ventures or acquisitions to secure electronics and software capabilities. As the boundary between mirrors, cameras, and in-cabin sensing systems blurs, the most competitive vendors are those able to deliver integrated, software-enabled mirror modules that meet evolving safety regulations while remaining cost-competitive across both ICE and EV platforms.

MANUFACTURING PROCESS

A. LIGHTING DIVISION

1. Inward Material Inspection

The manufacturing process begins with the receipt of raw materials such as plastics, metals, bulbs, reflectors, lenses, electronic components, and wiring harnesses from approved suppliers. Each consignment is carefully verified against purchase specifications and supported documentation. Detailed quality inspections are conducted to detect defects, measure dimensional accuracy, and ensure compliance with industry and AIS standards. Only materials that meet the prescribed criteria are accepted and systematically stored in designated inventory areas to maintain traceability and prevent damage or contamination.

2. Moulding & Die Casting

Lamp components are manufactured using advanced production techniques. In the moulding process, plastic granules are dried to remove moisture and then processed through plastic injection moulding to manufacture lamp housings, lenses, and reflectors with high precision and uniformity. Where required, metal inserts are placed in the mould prior to injection. After moulding, components undergo trimming and removal of excess material (deflashing) to ensure smooth edges and proper fitment. Initial quality checks are then performed to confirm dimensional accuracy, structural integrity, and readiness for subsequent processes.

3. Coating & Metallization

To optimize lighting performance, reflectors are metallized with aluminium or similar reflective coatings, significantly improving light output and distribution. Lenses are often treated with specialized coatings that provide ultraviolet protection, enhance clarity, and increase resistance to scratches and environmental wear. These treatments extend product life while maintaining consistent illumination quality.

4. Light Assembly & Process Inspection

During assembly, appropriate light sources such as halogen, LED, or HID units are installed within the lamp housing according to product specifications. Electrical wiring harnesses, connectors, and circuits are integrated to ensure reliable power transmission. Process inspections are carried out at this stage to verify correct fitment, alignment, and electrical functionality, reducing the likelihood of defects progressing further in the production cycle.

5. Sealing & Ultrasonic Welding

To safeguard internal components from moisture, dust, and other contaminants, lenses are permanently sealed onto the lamp housing using high-grade adhesives or ultrasonic welding technology. This step creates a strong, airtight bond that enhances durability, supports long-term performance, and ensures the lamp can withstand challenging environmental conditions.

6. Testing & Quality Control

Completed lamps undergo rigorous testing protocols to validate safety, reliability, and regulatory compliance. These evaluations typically include:

- Light intensity and beam pattern testing to ensure optimal visibility without causing glare.
- Waterproof and dustproof assessments to confirm IP rating compliance.
- Vibration and thermal resistance tests to simulate real-world operating conditions.
- Laboratory performance validation to ensure adherence to applicable quality and AIS standards.

Only products that successfully pass all testing parameters are approved for final release.

7. Final Assembly & Packaging

In the final stage, lamps are marked with labels, branding elements, barcodes, and part numbers to support identification and traceability. Comprehensive visual and functional inspections are conducted to confirm that each unit meets quality expectations. The products are then carefully packaged using protective materials designed to prevent scratches, breakage, or transit-related damage.

8. Storage & Dispatch

Finished goods are transferred to warehouses and organized in accordance with inventory management systems to facilitate efficient retrieval and distribution. Orders are processed based on customer requirements, and shipments are dispatched through reliable logistics channels to OEM clients, dealers, or aftermarket distributors, ensuring timely and secure delivery.

B. MOTORS AND ROTORS DIVISION

1. Design and Planning

The process begins with detailed engineering design, where the starter motor's dimensions, materials, and performance requirements are defined. Specifications are developed based on engine type, voltage capacity, torque needs, and operating conditions. Careful material selection follows, typically involving high-grade steel for the housing, copper for electrical windings, and aluminium for lightweight structural components (for instance, Front end cover and Rear end cover). Emphasis is placed on durability, thermal resistance, and operational efficiency to ensure reliable long-term performance.

2. Component Fabrication

- Stator (Stationary Component): Manufactured by winding insulated copper wire around a laminated steel core to minimize energy loss. Automated winding machines are used to maintain precision and consistency.
- Rotor (Rotating Component): Constructed from laminated steel to reduce eddy currents, with a high-strength metal shaft. Copper windings are integrated to support effective electromagnetic operation.
- End Shields and Bearings: End shields are produced from steel or aluminium to provide structural support, while ball or roller bearings are engineered to facilitate smooth rotor movement and reduce friction during operation.

3. Commutator and Brush Assembly

- Commutator: Formed from copper segments arranged cylindrically and insulated to ensure controlled current flow within the motor.
- Brush Assembly: Carbon brushes are mounted within dedicated holders to maintain continuous contact with the commutator, enabling efficient electrical transmission while supporting stable motor performance.

4. Winding Process

Both stator and rotor undergo precision coil winding using automated equipment. Insulated copper wire is applied uniformly to achieve the required number of turns and resistance levels. This step is critical for generating the magnetic field necessary for motor operation and ensuring optimal electrical efficiency.

5. Yoke Manufacturing and Assembly

The yoke serves as the external frame that houses key components such as the stator, rotor, and bearings. Typically fabricated from steel or aluminium through stamping, moulding, or casting processes, it provides structural strength and magnetic support. Many designs incorporate ventilation slots or cooling vents to promote airflow and prevent overheating during repeated start cycles.

6. Rotor-Stator Integration

The rotor is carefully inserted into the stator assembly, ensuring accurate alignment with the commutator and brushes. Bearings are positioned at both ends to support balanced rotation and minimize vibration. Press-fit or mechanical fastening methods are used to secure the assembly, ensuring operational stability.

7. Final Assembly

- Housing Completion: End shields are attached, and the brush housing is secured to enclose the motor assembly.
- Solenoid Installation: The solenoid is integrated to control engagement with the engine flywheel by pushing the pinion gear forward when activated.
- Pinion Gear Fitment: A precision-engineered pinion gear is mounted on the shaft, often connected through a gear reduction mechanism or overrunning clutch to ensure smooth engagement and disengagement.
- Switchgear Integration: Electrical switching components are installed to support reliable activation of the starter motor.

8. Testing and Quality Control

Each starter motor undergoes comprehensive inspections and performance evaluations:

- Electrical Testing: Verifies voltage, current flow, winding integrity, and brush-to-commutator contact.
- Performance Testing: Conducted on specialized test rigs to measure torque, rotational speed, and power output under simulated load conditions.
- Defect Inspection: Final visual examinations identify any structural or assembly flaws, with non-conforming units routed for rework or rejection.

9. Packaging and Dispatch

After successfully passing all quality checks, starter motors are securely packaged using protective materials to prevent transit damage. The finished products are then dispatched through organized logistics channels to automotive manufacturers, OEMs, or component distributors, ensuring safe and timely delivery.

C. MIRROR DIVISION

OUR BUSINESS STRATEGIES

1. Strengthening OEM Presence Through Platform-Based Product Development

The Company intends to deepen relationships with existing OEM customers by transitioning from part-wise supply to platform-level engagement. Instead of entering at the post-design sourcing stage, the Company aims to participate during the vehicle development phase through co-development initiatives, integrated assemblies (lighting, mirrors and motors), early design validation including DFMEA support, and faster PPAP readiness cycles. This strategy is expected to enhance switching costs, enable multi-year platform lock-ins and improve revenue visibility, thereby positioning the Company as a development partner rather than a transactional supplier.

2. Expansion into Technology-LED Product Portfolio

The Company is gradually shifting from conventional components to value-added, technology-driven products with higher realization and margin stability. Its focus areas include LED and projector lighting systems, BLDC and high-efficiency motors, electronic sub-assemblies and design-oriented assemblies as opposed to commodity components. While commodity products face pricing pressure, engineered products offer differentiation, longer lifecycle stability and improved margins. The Company intends to increase the contribution of such technology-led products to its overall revenue mix.

3. Integrated Supply Chain and Vendor Support Strategy

Our Company's business strategy is focused on strengthening supply chain integration and ensuring uninterrupted availability of key components required for its manufacturing operations through dedicated vendor and group company arrangements. Pursuant to this approach, the Company has entered into an exclusive supply and machinery usage agreement dated April 01, 2025 with Annu Industries, a proprietorship firm of one of our Promoters, Anita Neeraj Goyal, under which injection moulding machines provided by our Company are utilized exclusively for manufacturing moulded plastic components to be supplied solely to our Company. This arrangement supports consistent production, quality control, reduced lead time and operational efficiency for components used in our lighting, mirror and other automotive products. Further, the Company also procures hoods from Riansh Corporate Private Limited, one of our Group Companies engaged in the manufacturing of hoods, enabling efficient sourcing of complementary products aligned with customer and operational requirements. Through such integrated supply and procurement arrangements, the Company aims to enhance operational continuity, optimize resource utilization and support scalable growth in its automotive component business.

4. Aftermarket Brand Development

To reduce dependence on OEM production cycles, the Company is building its proprietary aftermarket brand. It is expanding a structured distributor network, implementing standardized packaging and SKU coding, adopting catalog-based selling, introducing product authentication and traceability mechanisms, and entering the multi-brand spare parts ecosystem. The objective is to create a recurring, higher-margin revenue stream independent of OEM cyclicalities.

5. Capacity Expansion and Backward Integration

The Company proposes to enhance manufacturing efficiency through selective backward integration and automation. Key initiatives include consolidation of processes under centralized operational control, automation of repetitive operations, adoption of a tooling ownership strategy and reduction of outsourced dependency. These measures are expected to improve EBITDA margins, ensure quality consistency, shorten lead times and mitigate supply chain risks.

6. Customer Diversification

The Company intends to broaden its customer base across vehicle segments and geographies to reduce concentration risk. It is focusing on EV manufacturers, export-oriented OEMs, new mobility platforms and replacement market channels. This diversification strategy is aimed at enhancing revenue resilience and reducing dependency on any single customer or segment.

7. Strategic Partnerships and Technology Alliances

The Company plans to pursue collaborations with global component manufacturers lacking local manufacturing presence. Such partnerships are expected to provide access to advanced design capabilities, enable technology transfer, accelerate product qualification and facilitate entry into new OEM ecosystems, thereby strengthening the Company's competitive positioning.

8. Operational Excellence and Digitalization

The Company is implementing structured operational systems to improve productivity and traceability. These initiatives include digitized production monitoring, real-time planning versus actual tracking, process standardization, quality analytics and preventive maintenance frameworks. The objective is to increase throughput while maintaining controlled manpower growth and operational discipline.

9. Working Capital Efficiency

The Company aims to optimize its working capital cycle through SKU rationalization, forecast-linked procurement, vendor consolidation and improved receivable discipline supported by platform-based orders. These measures are expected to enhance cash flow predictability and reduce capital intensity.

RAW MATERIALS

The manufacturing of automotive components requires a diverse range of raw materials across its product segments, including lighting systems, rear-view mirrors, and plastic moulded components. For automotive lighting systems such as headlamps, tail lamps, and indicators, key materials include plastics and polymers like polycarbonate sheets for lenses and ABS or PP for housings, metals such as aluminium and steel for housing and reflectors, electronic components including bulbs (halogen or LED), PCBs, resistors, connectors, wires, and harnesses, as well as sealants and adhesives like hot melt sealants, silicone adhesives, and foam gaskets. Additional items include screws, washers, clips, protective masking films, etc.

For Mirror segment, essential raw materials include reflective mirror glass, plastics such as ABS and PP for housings and caps, metals including steel rods, springs, metal caps, nuts, and washers, and rubber components like grommets, caps, and seals. Industrial adhesives, wrapping films, butter paper, and bubble wrap are also used to ensure protection during assembly and transit.

In the case of plastic moulded components, the primary materials consist of engineering plastics such as PP, ABS, and PC, along with additives and colorants including pigments, fillers, and stabilizers. Certain components may also incorporate metal inserts like nuts or threaded fittings where required.

All raw materials are sourced from approved suppliers and undergo rigorous quality checks to ensure compliance with specifications and industry standards before being utilized in production. This ensures that our products maintain consistent quality, durability, and performance in line with customer and regulatory requirements.

The process of procurement of Raw Materials is as follows:

□ Identification of Requirement:

The procurement process begins with identifying the raw materials, components, or services required for production. The production and planning teams analyze inventory levels, production schedules, and customer demand to forecast requirements accurately. This step ensures that procurement aligns with operational needs, prevents shortages, and avoids excess inventory. Regular review meetings are conducted to confirm that all requirements are captured comprehensively.

□ Budgeting:

Once requirements are identified, estimated costs are prepared and approved in line with the Company's financial plans. Budgeting helps control procurement expenses and ensures alignment with overall financial objectives. It also facilitates proper allocation of resources for high-priority materials. Budget reviews are conducted periodically to account for fluctuations in raw material prices or changes in production plans.

□ Vendor Selection:

Suitable vendors are evaluated based on quality standards, reliability, pricing, production capacity, delivery timelines, and regulatory compliance. Approved vendors are shortlisted and maintained in a supplier database for consistent sourcing. The Company emphasizes long-term relationships with trusted suppliers to ensure uninterrupted supply and competitive pricing. Supplier performance is reviewed periodically to ensure adherence to contractual obligations and quality benchmarks.

□ Inward Quality Inspection:

All materials received from vendors undergo rigorous quality inspection before being accepted into inventory. This includes verification against specifications, dimensional checks, and compliance with safety standards. Only materials that meet the required quality parameters are released for production. Any non-conforming materials are returned to vendors or handled as per internal quality control protocols. This step ensures reliability and consistency in final products.

□ Purchase Order Issuance:

After vendor selection and confirmation, a formal purchase order is issued detailing the quantity, quality, delivery schedule, pricing, and contractual terms. The purchase order formalizes the procurement arrangement and ensures clarity and accountability for both parties. Any changes in specifications or timelines are communicated through revised purchase orders. This step also serves as the basis for vendor invoicing and payment processing.

□ Warehousing and Inventory Management:

Accepted materials are systematically stored in designated warehouse locations with proper tracking and inventory management systems. Stock levels are monitored regularly to ensure availability for production while optimizing working capital. The system enables traceability of materials, easy retrieval, and prevents material loss or damage. Regular audits and stock reconciliations are conducted to maintain inventory accuracy and operational efficiency.

□ Final Payments to Vendors:

Payments are made to vendors after successful delivery, inspection, and acceptance of materials, as per contractual terms. Timely payments help maintain strong relationships with suppliers and ensure continuity of supply. The payment process also involves verification of invoices, reconciliation with purchase orders, and internal approvals. Maintaining disciplined payment practices supports the credibility of the Company in the supply chain.

QUALITY CONTROL

Lighting Division:

1. Understanding the Certification Requirements

- In India, automotive components, including lighting lamps (headlamps, tail lamps, indicators, etc.), must comply with Automotive Industry Standards (AIS) as mandated by the Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH).
- The certification process is carried out by authorized test agencies such as Automotive Research Association of India (ARAI), Central Institute of Road Transport (CIRT), International Centre for Automotive Technology (ICAT), Central Institute of Road Transport (CIRT), and Vehicle Research & Development Establishment (VRDE).
- These certificates are essential for regulatory compliance and are required for vehicle approval under the Central Motor Vehicles Rules (CMVR), 1989.

2. Receiving Customer Request for Certification

- The customer (OEM or vehicle manufacturer) requests certification for a specific automotive lighting lamp.
- The product's design, technical specifications, and applicable AIS standards (e.g., AIS-034, AIS-037 for lighting requirements) are reviewed.
- A feasibility study is conducted to ensure the product meets the necessary requirements before submission.

3. Documentation Preparation

- The required documentation is compiled, which includes:
  - Product technical details: Drawings, specifications, and material composition.
  - Test reports (if available): Internal lab test reports proving compliance with AIS norms.
  - Manufacturing process details: Information about production, quality control, and traceability.
  - Application form: Official request for certification submitted to the chosen agency.

4. Submission to the Authorized Certification Agency

- The prepared documents and sample products are submitted to the designated certification agency (ARAI, ICAT, etc.).
- The agency reviews the application and assigns a docket number and schedule for testing.

5. Testing & Evaluation Process

- The product undergoes testing at the agency's certified automotive testing facility to verify compliance with AIS standards.
- Tests include:
  - Photometric Tests: To measure light intensity, beam pattern, and luminous efficiency.
  - Mechanical Tests: Durability, vibration resistance, and impact resistance verification.
  - Environmental Tests: Performance under different temperature, humidity, and dust conditions.

- Electrical Safety Tests: Voltage compatibility and resistance to power fluctuations.
- If the product fails any test, modifications are made, and the product is resubmitted for re-evaluation.

6. Inspection and Quality Audit

- The agency conducts a manufacturing facility audit to ensure compliance with quality control standards and organisation certification standard i.e. IATF or ISO.
- It checks adherence to AIS specifications in production and quality assurance processes.
- Any non-conformities identified during the audit must be rectified before proceeding.

7. Issuance of Certificate

- Once all tests and inspections are successfully completed, the certification agency issues an AIS compliance certificate.
- The certification confirms that the lighting lamp meets regulatory standards and is fit for use in vehicles.
- The certificate is valid for a specific period and must be renewed as per regulatory AIS requirements.

8. Submission to Regulatory Authorities & Customer

- The certified product details are submitted to the relevant government authorities for vehicle homologation.
- The customer (OEM or vehicle manufacturer) receives the certificate, which is required for passing the vehicle in India.
- The product can now be legally installed in vehicles and sold in the Indian market.

9. Renewal & Continuous Compliance

- The certification needs to be periodically renewed as per AIS 037 guidelines.
- The manufacturing process is continuously monitored to ensure ongoing compliance with AIS norms.
- Any updates in standards or regulations require retesting and recertification if necessary.

Motor Division

C. Laws relating to employment

Code on Wages, 2019

The Code on Wages, 2019, is a comprehensive legislation that consolidates and simplifies four central labour laws: the Payment of Wages Act, 1936; the Minimum Wages Act, 1948; the Payment of Bonus Act, 1965; and the Equal Remuneration Act, 1976. Its primary objective is to create a uniform and streamlined framework for wage-related regulations across all sectors of employment. A key feature of the Code is the universalization of minimum wage and timely wage payment provisions, making them applicable to all employees, including those in the unorganized sector, thereby removing previous wage ceilings and employment-specific limitations. The Code introduces the concept of a national "floor wage" to be determined by the Central Government, which will serve as a baseline that state-level minimum wages cannot fall below. Furthermore, it prohibits gender discrimination in matters of wages and recruitment for the same or similar nature of work, codifies the rules for annual bonus payments, and specifies clear timelines for wage payments and permissible deductions. The enforcement mechanism is also revamped, introducing the role of an "Inspector-cum-Facilitator" to advise employers and employees, alongside traditional inspection functions, aiming for a more transparent and less adversarial compliance system.

Code on Social Security, 2020

The Code on Social Security, 2020, is a comprehensive legislation designed to consolidate and amend nine central labour enactments related to social security, including those governing provident funds, employee insurance, maternity benefits, and gratuity. Its most significant objective is to universalize social security benefits by extending coverage to the vast unorganized sector, as well as to gig and platform workers, who were previously largely outside the traditional safety net. The Code establishes a framework for this expansion through the mandatory registration of all workers on a national portal and the creation of a dedicated Social Security Fund to finance schemes for them. While streamlining the administration of existing statutory schemes like the EPF and ESI, the Code's core purpose is to create a single, unified structure to provide a social security umbrella for the entire Indian workforce, adapting to the changing nature of work in the modern economy.

The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions Code, 2020

The Occupational Safety, Health and Working Conditions (OSH) Code, 2020, is a comprehensive legislation that consolidates and replaces 13 central labour laws, including The Factories Act, 1948; The Mines Act, 1952; The Dock Workers (Safety, Health and Welfare) Act, 1986; The Building and Other Construction Workers Act, 1996; The Plantations Labour Act, 1951; The Contract Labour Act, 1970; The Inter-State Migrant Workmen Act, 1979; The Working Journalist and other Newspaper Employees Act, 1955; The Working Journalist (Fixation of Rates of Wages) Act, 1958; The Motor Transport Workers Act, 1961; The Sales Promotion Employees Act, 1976; The Beedi and Cigar Workers Act, 1966; and The Cine-Workers and Cinema Theatre Workers Act, 1981. Its primary objective is to create a single, uniform regulatory framework for a wide range of establishments. The Code simplifies compliance for employers by introducing a single registration and license system and clearly defines the duties of both employers and employees regarding workplace safety. Furthermore, it establishes advisory boards, introduces specific welfare provisions for contract and migrant workers, and permits women to work at night with their consent and adequate safety. By shifting the enforcement mechanism towards an "Inspector-cum-Facilitator" model, the Code aims to foster a more proactive and advisory approach to ensuring safe and humane working conditions.

Shops and Establishments Legislations

Under the provisions of local shops and establishments legislations applicable in the states in which such establishments are set up, establishments are required to be registered. Such legislations regulate the working and employment conditions of the workers employed in shops and establishments including commercial establishments and provide for fixation of working hours, rest intervals, overtime, holidays, leave, termination of service, maintenance of shops and establishments and other rights and obligations of the employers and employees. Our offices, stores and warehouses have to be registered under the shops and establishments legislations of the states where they are located.

The Consumer Protection Act broadly lists down six consumer rights, which include, among others, the right to be protected against marketing of goods products or services which are hazardous to life and property, right to be informed about quality and standard of goods, products and services in order to protect the consumer against unfair trade practices, right to seek redress against unfair or restrictive trade practices or unscrupulous exploitation of consumers as well as the right to consumer awareness. The scope of unfair trade practices has been expanded to include representations or statements by means of electronic record. The Consumer Protection Act further provides for the establishment of consumer protection councils, a central consumer protection authority, and consumer disputes redress commissions, and lays down scope of powers and responsibilities of all such bodies. It also provides for mediation as an alternate dispute resolution mechanism for the resolution of consumer disputes and makes provisions for the establishment of a consumer mediation cell.

The Consumer Protection Act provides for punishment of offences including non-compliance by any person with directions of the central consumer protection authority, or for false or misleading advertisement or for offences in relation to, among others, the manufacture, sale and storage of adulterants or spurious goods. Reasons for Variation more than 25%:

- (a) Debt Service Coverage Ratio : The Debt Service Coverage Ratio improved during the period primarily due to a higher increase in earnings available for debt servicing compared to the increase in debt service obligations, reflecting an improved capacity of the Company to meet its debt commitments.
- (b) Return on Equity Ratio : The Return on Equity increased during the period primarily due to a significant improvement in net profitability. While the equity base also increased, the growth in profits was relatively stronger, resulting in an overall enhancement in the ratio.
- (c) Trade Receivables turnover ratio : Trade Receivables turnover declined as sales reduced and average receivables increased, indicating slower collection efficiency.
- (d) Net capital turnover ratio : The Capital Turnover Ratio increased during the period primarily due to a rise in sales along with a reduction in average working capital. The decline in working capital indicates more efficient utilization of funds, which, coupled with higher sales, led to an overall improvement in the ratio.
- (e) Net profit ratio : The Net Profit Ratio increased during the period primarily due to a significant improvement in profitability. While sales also grew, the increase in profit was relatively stronger, supported by the Company's ability to control costs while scaling up revenue, leading to an overall enhancement in the ratio.
- (f) Return on Capital Employed : The Return on Capital Employed increased during the period primarily due to a strong improvement in operating profitability. While capital employed also increased, the growth in operating profit was relatively higher, leading to a more efficient utilization of capital and an overall improvement in the ratio.

(k) Return on investment	0.00%	0.00%	0.00%

Reasons for Variation more than 25%:

(a) Debt-Equity Ratio : The Debt-Equity Ratio increased during the period as borrowings grew at a faster pace than equity. While the Company continued to strengthen its equity base, the increase was relatively moderate, leading to an overall rise in the ratio.

(b) Net capital turnover ratio : The Net Capital Turnover Ratio increased during the period primarily due to a reduction in average working capital, along with a growth in sales. #### PHASED IMPLEMENTATION OF UNIFIED PAYMENTS INTERFACE

SEBI has issued UPI Circulars in relation to streamlining the process of public issue of equity shares and convertibles. Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, UPI has been introduced in a phased manner as a payment mechanism (in addition to mechanism of blocking funds in the account maintained with SCSBs under the ASBA) for applications by Individual Investors through intermediaries with the objective to reduce the time duration from public issue closure to listing from six Working Days to upto three Working Days.

Considering the time required for making necessary changes to the systems and to ensure complete and smooth transition to the UPI Mechanism, the UPI Circulars proposes to introduce and implement the UPI Mechanism in three phases in the following manner:

Phase I: This phase is applicable from January 1, 2019 and will continue up to June 30, 2019. Under this phase, a Individual Investor would also have the option to submit the Application Form with any of the intermediary and use his / her UPI ID for the purpose of blocking of funds. The time duration from public Issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days.

Phase II: This phase commenced on completion of Phase I, i.e., with effect from July 1, 2019 and was to be continued for a period of three months or launch of five main board public issues, whichever is later. Further, as per the SEBI circular No. SEBI/HO/CFD/DCR2/CIR/P/2019/133 dated November 8, 2019, the UPI Phase II has been extended until March 31, 2020. Further still, as per SEBI circular No. SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2020/50 dated March 30, 2020, the current Phase II of Unified Payments Interface with Application Supported by Blocked Amount will be continued till further notice. Under this phase, submission of the Application Form by a Individual Investor through intermediaries to SCSBs for blocking of funds will be discontinued and will be replaced by the UPI Mechanism. However, the time duration from public Issue closure to listing would continue to be six Working Days during this phase.

Phase III: The commencement period of Phase III is notified pursuant to SEBI press release bearing number 12/2023 and as per the SEBI Circular No. SEBI/HO/CFD/TPD1/CIR/P/2023/140 dated August 09, 2023, where the revised timeline of T+3 days shall be made applicable in two phases i.e. (i) voluntary for all public issues opening on or after September 01, 2023; and (ii) mandatory on or after December 01, 2023. The issue will be made under UPI Phase III of the UPI Circulars.

The processing fees for applications made by UPI Bidders using the UPI Mechanism may be released to the SCSBs only after such banks provide a written confirmation, in compliance with the SEBI RTA Master Circular in a format as prescribed by SEBI, from time to time, and such payment of processing fees to the SCSBs shall be made in compliance with circulars prescribed by SEBI and applicable law. Accordingly, the Issue has been undertaken pursuant to the processes and procedures under UPI Phase III, subject to any circulars, clarification or notification issued by the SEBI pursuant to the T+3 Notification. The Issue will be advertised in all editions of [●] (a widely circulated English national daily newspaper), all editions of [●] (a widely circulated Hindi national daily newspaper) and Marathi editions of [●] (a widely circulated Marathi daily newspaper, Marathi being the regional language of Maharashtra, where our registered office is located), on or prior to the Bid/Issue Opening Date and such advertisement has also been made available to the Stock Exchange for the purpose of uploading on their websites.

All SCSBs offering the facility of making applications in public issues are required to provide a facility to make applications using the UPI Mechanism. Further, in accordance with the UPI Circulars, our Company has appointed [●] as the Sponsor Bank to act as a conduit between the Stock Exchange and NPCI in order to facilitate collection of requests and / or payment instructions of the Individual Investors into the UPI mechanism.

Pursuant to the UPI Circulars, SEBI has set out specific requirements for redressal of investor grievances for applications that have been made through the UPI Mechanism. The requirements of the UPI Circulars include appointment of a nodal officer by the SCSB and submission of their details to SEBI, the requirement for SCSBs to send SMS alerts for the blocking and unblocking of UPI mandates, the requirement for the Registrar to submit details of cancelled, withdrawn or deleted applications, and the requirement for the bank accounts of unsuccessful Bidders to be unblocked no later than one day from the date on which the Basis of Allotment is finalised. Failure to unblock the accounts within the timeline would result in the SCSBs being penalised under the relevant securities law. Additionally, if there is any delay in the redressal of investors' complaints, the relevant SCSB as well as the Book Running Lead Manager will be required to compensate the concerned investor.

SEBI through its circular SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2022/45 dated April 05, 2022, has prescribed that all individual investors applying in initial public offerings opening on or after May 01, 2022, where the application amount is up to ₹5,00,000, shall use UPI. Individual investors bidding under the Non-Institutional Portion bidding for more than ₹2,00,000 and up to ₹5,00,000, using the UPI Mechanism, shall provide their UPI ID in the Bid- cum-Application Form for Bidding through Syndicate, sub-syndicate members, Registered Brokers, RTAs or CDPs, or online using the facility of linked online trading, demat and bank account (3 in 1 type accounts), provided by certain brokers.

The processing fees for applications made by Individual Investors using the UPI Mechanism may be released to the remitter banks (SCSBs) only after such banks provide a written confirmation on compliance with SEBI Circular No: SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/P/CIR/2021/570 dated June 02, 2021 read with SEBI Circular No: SEBI/HO/CFD/DIL2/CIR/P/2021/2480/1/M dated March 16, 2021. The list of Banks that have been notified by SEBI as Issuer Banks for UPI are provided on <https://www.sebi.gov.in/sebiweb/other/OtherAction.do?doRecognisedFpi=yes&intmId=40>.

The responsibility of granting approval for foreign investment under the Consolidated FDI Policy and FEMA has been entrusted to the concerned ministries / departments.

The Government of India has from time to time made policy pronouncements on FDI through press notes and press releases. The Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, Ministry of Commerce and Industry (formerly Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion), Government of India (“DPIIT”) issued the Consolidated FDI Policy, which consolidates and supersedes all previous press notes, press releases and clarifications on FDI issued by the DPIIT that were in force and effect prior to October 15, 2020. Under the current FDI Policy, 100% foreign direct investment is permitted in the manufacturing, under the automatic route, subject to compliance with certain prescribed conditions.

The transfer of shares between an Indian resident and a non-resident does not require the prior approval of RBI, provided that: (i) the activities of the investee company are under the automatic route under the Consolidated FDI Policy and transfer does not attract the provisions of the SEBI Takeover Regulations, (ii) the non-resident shareholding is within the sectoral limits under the Consolidated FDI policy, and (iii) the pricing is in accordance with the guidelines prescribed by the SEBI / RBI.

Further, in accordance with Press Note No. 3 (2020 Series), dated April 17, 2020 issued by the DPIIT and the Foreign Exchange Management (Non-debt Instruments) Amendment Rules, 2020 which came into effect from April 22, 2020, any investment, subscription, purchase or sale of equity instruments by entities of a country which shares land border with India or where the beneficial owner of an investment into India is situated in or is a citizen of any such country (“Restricted Investor”), will require prior approval of the Government, as prescribed in the Consolidated FDI Policy and the FEMA Rules. Further, in the event of transfer of ownership of any existing or future FDI in an entity in India, directly or indirectly, resulting in the beneficial ownership falling within the aforesaid restriction / purview, such subsequent change in the beneficial ownership will also require approval of the Government. Furthermore, on April 22, 2020, the Ministry of Finance, Government of India has also made a similar amendment to the FEMA Rules. Each Applicant should seek independent legal advice about its ability to participate in the Issue. In the event such prior approval of the Government of India is required, and such approval has been obtained, the Applicant shall intimate our Company and the Registrar to the Issue in writing about such approval along with a copy thereof within the Issue Period.
